My dear Harriet,

I told you in my last something omitted that surprised you very much. Mr. Higgins proposed marriage to Mr. Mills on Friday or Saturday the 28th Oct. the day I write, and he encouraged him in it as an indiction of God's will in the matter. But he answered decisively that his opinions were formed on my mind & means, and he refused to withdraw his opposition. — So you may now dismiss the matter from your thoughts, and trust it as I hope I had never mentioned it. That I have been guided by God in this affair I deem the most striking evidence, the most thorough conviction; and if disfavour embarrass my regard, it shall be kept to pass. Of all events, I have great peace in the connection that I have left all with him, humbly and with complete resignation. Mr. Higgins, upon reflection, made me engaged by Mr B. a photographer whom he commissioned to take my portrait. Two were taken one full length, one a vignette. The latter I enclose, and when I write again will send the others. I hope you will not mind my having paid. You may be sure that nothing better can be got out of my face. Something in the photographs reminds one of Pa.

I have not heard from you since I last wrote. I hope to hear to-day: I think the mail is in.

There are new lines of telegraph from Bombay to Europe, via Persia & Russia, and Persia and Turkey. Thereby to say, there have been no messages yet sent. — There are other lines of Railway running out of Bombay. Two of these are round Mr Ghants (2000 feet high). The Bore Ghaut incline was finished last March. This line runs to Mr S.G. — eventually to Madras. The Thull Ghaut (N.E.) is just completed. And the line that runs through the Northern Concan to England is also just completed. —

Mr Barker is now here from Nuggur he has had fever. He returns to America in the beginning of the year, with his motherless little Mary. He has been here 10 years. Mr Bl. Lanton's eldest son (in the country) goes home with Mr. Barker, and so does Mr. Atherton's eldest son. —

My two eldest friends Col. Allen. Mrs (Mrs Leith's sister) and Mrs. Col. Murray, (Mrs Leith's niece.) have lately returned from England. — Mrs Leith is at present coming hill-station. I had a letter from her the other day, in which she marked up for me in pencil the monument. She sent me her new photograph & Lord's. I shall perhaps send you one of them one of these days: —

You will be telling me soon what you think of Bombay. Perhaps it is not to your taste. I thought it desirable that there should be something imaginative in the Guardian.

The Mail is not in, I must not keep you from your letters. — I know neither Br. Burdett. I send you his letter. His address I believe is Medina Ohio. But Mr. Merwin will know. — How long a man without any trade to work. Do we pray enough for him? —

Commending you & yours & the dear Lord Jesus Christ to his care & guidance I am dear Mother Yours

Most affectionately

Geo Bowen

Bombay

Nov 28/64

1864
Nov 24
NOV
Miss Harriet S. Bowen
48 West Washington Place
New York
Northampton

Indapen. 21st July 1862.

My Dear Brother,

Your last kind letter was quite an unexpected treat and would have been acknowledged long ere this, if I had not been thrown back in my correspondence by my last monthly tour.

Some years ago I remember, as we came home from preaching, you complained of your alleged want of success in your mission ary labours. My present communication will show how useful you have been to me. In this place I have so little of christian intercourse, but your meditations and notes of sermons in the Guardian make up for this great want. I was particularly struck with the passage, "owe no man any thing but love." How many christians you must be feeding and refreshing in this way. I would say, dear brother, go on with your labours of love. But would you say this is refreshing those who are already in God's kingdom, it is not a direct missionary work. I trust such a thought never finds any entrance in your heart. I look upon your guardian as much a missionary work as your standing in the corner of the tract society's depositon and preaching to the blind heathen of Bombay. But I will show you how the guardian is a direct missionary work. The guardian stirs me up, in my turn I stir up the christian people working with me and they and I work in this region, I trust, with all our might. Call not this missionary work? May the Lord preserve you long to labour in this way.

From the 9th of June we have had very little or no rain in this part of the country. Consequently the poor people are getting very anxious. Every thing is becoming very dear. Notwithstanding all this there is no disposition to look to the only true and living God. The Brahmans have been drowning the Mahadeva (drowning the great God) so that he might give them rain. The common people have been cow or buffalo dunging Mhasoba. But neither the one nor the other is roused by this indignity to do the needful on behalf of their wretched souls. How little do they seem to know what it is to fall down before God! Now they are ready to fall down and worship them, now they are ready to drown and bury them. When we go out to preach the invariable question put to us is when

Bombay 27th November, 1865

My dear Mother & Sisters,

I went to Ahmednuggur last month leaving on the 13th and returning on the 2nd Nov. I spent two or three days in Poona on my way up. The railway took me to Dhond about 45 miles from Ahmednuggur. Dr. Bruce, Lieut Brown & Mr. MacDonald, Christian friends (of Harriet's ones) entered the carriage at Poona. They were going to Ahmednuggur, but when they found out from me that they were in error as to the time of the general meeting, they decided to remain where they were and to go on to Dhond and I spent a pleasant day with them in the travellers' bungalow. Dr. F. has now no employment. He is waiting upon Govt, but without success so far. Mr. Harding came on in the evening from Ahmednuggur and the next morning he and I left for Nagpur in a tonga, the others returning to Poona. A tonga is a little two-wheeled vehicle in which the parties sit back to back, looking forward and sideward, drawn by two ponies. We reached Nagpur in the evening. Mr. Harding stopped with Dr. Hazen, I with Dr. Wordsworth. The Fairbanks and Mr. Abbott were living also with Dr. Wordsworth. The Nagpur Bruces made up the mission party. — I spent a very happy fortnight there. We had a daily prayer-meeting in English for the missionaries at 9 A.M. The brethren appointed me a Corr. member of their body and I took part with them in their business meetings which occupied me 4 or 5 hours daily. It was almost like being in America; all Americans, Am-books, newspapers &c &c, and Mr. Ford (pancakes, pumpkin pies &c.) The only children that were Mr Santomb's 4 Mr Hazen's 2 daughters, and Mr Bruce's baby. — In the second week, there was the examination of the schools, divided by certain little pieces of representation. For instance the story of the Merchant of Venice was worked up with two or three colloquies entertained by the school boys. I was interested & shown the absorbing interest of the Native Christ. spectators. Sir Alex Grant and others of the gentry were present. In these schools the Chr. children are educated & by teachers, catechists, pastors, or & fit secular posts, — and the wives of such. Several hundred Native Chr. came in from the districts, and filled the Chapel during the special 3 days' exercises. There were about 40 speakers, on a great variety of subjects. This was followed by the Communion. I should not forget that there was a scene of "opening of the Lord," such as I once before described. — An evening or two I had most have been a charming spot in its day, and is pretty and picturesque even now; Fairy-bagh is it's called, being garden, and Fairy for Peri. It is a Mohammedan pleasure-palace, stone with niches and a dome, flat stone of galleries encompassing the dome exteriors & overlooking & with trees. The building is islanded in the midst of a piece of artificial water, which is surrounded by noble tamarind-trees. After the meetings were over we spent a day in visiting a somewhat similar structure on a hill-top 6 miles east of Nuggur. It was a Shivaite idol, combining a palace with a tomb. The building was erected by Salabat Khan in honor of a favorite buried in the basement.

wife. We dined there al fresco in one of the open galleries near the top. Had a delightful day altogether. — I was there before in 1854 when the Deputation was here. — We were constantly reminded of the absent. The Ballantines Bissells, Barkers, Chapins. Nothing could exceed the kindness shown me by all. This however is so contrary to what I myself easily have forget to make mention of it.

After Br. Hardies 9 o'clock, there was another session meeting, at which they passed the following resolution: "Having enjoyed the presence and counsel of Br. Brown during the meeting, and receiving with great satisfaction the course to be pursued as regard to the Am. Board and ourselves since he was outwardly disconnected with us in 1855, the Mission would express the hope that the Prudential Committee may again appoint him a missionary of the A.B.C.F.M., and that Br. B. himself may again assume the duties and enjoy all the privileges that such a connection involves." — This was communicated to me by Br. F. in a kind letter. I am writing & he communicated with the Board as I was before 1855, and shall probably send by this opp'y a letter & Bir effect. The Lord will render it or prevent as not seems fit. I am equally the Lord's servant whether so employed or not.

You say the Guardian contained my thoughts, and these are not what I am most. The Guardian contained my inner life as no letter that I am most did. I put things into it that I could not have done & put in a letter: e.g. the diary of my innermost experience from 1845 to 1848, the sketch of my former life and conversion given in verse. In a true life thoughts are not separable from feelings and character. The thoughts of Christ fill up the Gospels, uttered in words and deeds.

The great conflict rages in the heart of this world is of thought with thought, Christ's thought with the world's thought, and the victory of the last day is the victory of Christ's thought over the world's thought. Happy is it when Christ shall say, Thou hast altered all my thoughts, and he that has heard thee has heard me, he that has rejected thy words has rejected mine.

I am delighted to have got a/c of the Darlingtons (Harriet's and Kate's). I must enclose a few lines for cousin Caroline. — The mention of her takes me back a great many years and I seem even now to hear her singing "I know a bank" and other songs, afterwards sung by Harriet. — You have not told me about Mr. D.

Pray take for your present very much and cordial Yrs

Yrs Sincerely

which means abundant salutation. All this family were at the meeting at Stoyles and all came back ill, and have continued so till now. Rambler is not Stoyles and I am preaching for him. — I am deeply grieved to hear of Br. Dodd's death. I remember to have my ill at ease on Lewis in '46 or '47, and to think him a very unpromising constitution: but the Lord has permitted him to spend many hours in the vineyard. — I am now reading Wayland's Life of Judson. I have not read it by me. Enjoy it much. I sympathize much with him as pioneer for perfect holiness, which is simply having a spirit commensurate with the offered Christ. As he is, so are we to be in the world. As the vine so the branch. When shall come salvation & the power of our God.

I had a letter from a lady whom I do believe never seen, but whom I know by report as a Christian, asking me my earnestly to pray for her. She seems in a state of great darkness, & I am reminded of the state I was in for some time before the 4th of Dec/45 when I obtained that hold of Christ which I have had uninterruptedly since, glory be to His name. I have written her Major Miller James are in Belgium. They left Paris I was away very suddenly, he being transferred to a regiment there. I miss them much. It is a capital station and I hope she will improve there. She was very delicate here, eating nothing. The climate there is more bracing. — Dear Dr. Ford, if you see him again, give him my love. How greatly would I enjoy seeing him. Why not pay me a visit for a month? — I am glad I shall see that Mr Miller at Frequently. — How many years is Revd Newton Legh junior? — I remember perfectly your writing desk and mine, sent from England by Ann in 1829. I am glad you have yours still. — Mention to your friend Mr Hopkins for his love and please give him mine in return. I hope he is really reading the Bible for himself. There belongs to man nature, legitimately, a love of novelty, but we err in the way in which we gratify it. Sometimes seek for new views of truth, when what we want is new experience of the power of truth. The Spirit of truth takes of the oldest most familiar things and so shews them to us that we are sparkling with joy. We are to be on our guard against the idea that man is to find out a system of Scripture in the discovery of new truths; such may or may not be given; but we know the word when we believe that the Spirit of God may turn the most familiar things into places of delight richly sanctifying us. — In an illustration ~~of last Habbit~~ of Peter (as dated Sept 29th of this) I may be allowed to mention that what you, dear Harriet, say of your joy in Christ is after the manner appreciated by simple faith in no way different from what you have written to me in years past. I think I could find the same expressions in some of your old letters, But the impressions are different.

I have not yet apprehended your argument on the evening question. This may be owing to my dullness.

a part of your argument is founded upon what you allege to have been the practice of the primitive church. If such a practice is to be blamed in all the primitive churches (and having to do with Jews & Gentiles) how could the practice ever become deeply planted by a totally different one Romish & Britishdom?
This is very different from a gradual corruption of doctrine.
There should be a great mark in history when such a great universal breach in image occurred. — If the Lord's day is taken from Saturday & Sunday & Monday & Tuesday, &c. &c., according to your view, must we on Sunday afternoon. But then you would not be singular and would not be saying "I the Church" but say "You are all wrong." The Church is wrong, errors or evil, but Christ's testimony is not with her about such things.
27th I have had an interview with the lady who wrote me.
She has every thing & might be happy, no external trials, but is haunted by gloomy forebodings which drive her almost to madness in the effort to banish them. She was touched beyond measure at the counsel so deep, she said, from any that the Ch. friends had given. May it be blessed to her. — Dear Kate give my affectionate regards to Mr. Boots when you see him. — Where does Mr. Catterns worship? The Rev. Peter? Should you see any thing of Br. Bissell, Barker, Ballantine, (nephew and uncle) please give them much love. Some them letters, but must defer writing. — Mr. give my affectionate regards to Br. Dulles if you ever have any communication with him. — Some people are talking about devising the guardian. A gentleman was offering the other day to become responsible for the expense. I saw no fault in their lady's simple duet — simple apply one given the putties. There is now no crowded vocal organ. One Bap't Church and the real secular advantages — evangelical articles. — Tell me about Antoinette and her children when you write. I know scarcely any thing. In much love. Yours

1868

Bombay, Nov. 12, 1866

My dear Mr. & Mrs. Allen,

I have had the pleasure of receiving a letter from Kate and another from Harriet, since I last wrote. I could have written before but was away at Ahmednuggur. I went to join Theodora on account of the meeting there. Enjoy these annual trips, as much as Harriet and Kate do their annual flittings to New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the Hudson. I went up with the Bissells. It was a great pleasure to be with them & their dear children. They were heartily welcomed at Nagpur after their three years absence. They and I lived with the Hayes. The Woods are located here. The Bruces were present. Mr. Abbott also, but not their families. Mr. Abbott has been transferred to Satara, where

I hope they will work with more satisfaction than they did in Rahoree. Mrs. A. has for years had a monument about the house which the Hazeen live in. She imagines it belongs to them, the Arabs, and made lovely and Marcomed unhappy by her complaints. The house belongs to the Am. Board and they occupied it as the Mission boys' school. It is very humiliating that a little crotchet like this should do so much mischief.

Mr. Ramseh Inapunt has left Bombay and is to be at Wantowree in the Nuggur field. — The Rajah of whom you saw a notice in the Guardian was not Rajah Jyjeonath of Bombay.

You may see in the Guardian as of the missionary meeting of the Chaplain of the station, Mr. Waters. There is a large camp of European (and Native) soldiers, and he is the only one to preach to them. It is a trial, but it is broad church liberality.

Let me tell you of a conversation I had with him. He asked me if I wrote the Notes from an Interleaved Bible. Yes. — I like them but I find you very and sometimes narrow. — I try my first object I find in the Bible. My views are not broad enough. I did not believe in a revelation at all. When I knew the Bible to be true, I resolved to take it as my guide, both in doctrine and in practice. — What about inspiration? Do you hold the literal view? — I believe it to be wholly the word of God. How the writers were influenced is with me of no consequence. God took care that the Bible should be what it is and every page has its inspiration. Copyists may have made mistakes; but none are allowed that in any way impaired the value of the Bible as God's book. — I am convinced, says he, to-day, with a Roman Catholic priest. He maintained the infallibility of the church. It seems to me your error is a similar one in relying on the Bible as infallible. It was written by fallible men, and of course must partake of their imperfections. — In the Bible I hear the voice of God; the infallibility on which I rest is that of God. If I wished to send a message by a man, I would take care that the messenger was fitted to convey it. If I wished a stamp that I felt should convey the most important of all messages to know who might receive it. He surely has power to get his message rightly delivered.

Afterwards asked him if he had any difficulties about the supernatural.

He said, Yes, and asked me what I thought of the miracles as that of Joshua's stopping the sun. I told him I fully believed it. It was fitting that the material world should be shown to be subordinate to the spiritual, and I believed there was from time to time such interferences with the ordinary course of nature with a view to the greater manifestation of the divine power. He could not go with this at all. The wonderful works of Christ he believed to be the effect of power beyond those of ordinary men, but still not beyond nature. — Christ said, I can of mine own self do nothing. The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. So the power was that of God, and was just the power that was manifest in creation. And nothing less would have answered. From that all should recognize as divine, was what was needed. —

Yet how small was the result, said he. Men did not believe. And it is not miracles that men need in order to believe. Why should miracles be wrought if men were not commanded them? — The N.T. does not make light of the evidence of miracles. If I do not the works of him that sent me believe me not." Look at the first seven chapters of the Acts, where the practical effects are connected with them. God gives sufficient evidence, and it is no disparagement of the that evidence man to it. — I was very much pleased with the frankness and honesty of the gentleman, and cannot but think him a hopeful subject for prayer. He is very active and laborious, trying to do good after his fashion. But how anomalous is his position as a clergyman of the Church of England. I believe there are many many like him in the ministry of that church.

I met the other day the two bundles of Daily Meditations from Dr. Duffer. I hope I cannot very much pleased with the getting up of the book. It is very handsome and I have no doubt it will find with the edition. On the contrary I am very thankful to Dr. Duffer for the pains taken in sending the proof, making new paragraphs &c. I wish you had sent me the bill yourself the Good Word Society, but Katherine says it is about £29. I have asked Mr. Hogan to give me an order on the Treasury of the Home Board for £30, and if I get it in time I will enclose it in this.

Nov. 13th. I have not heard from Mr. Hogan. He is not in the district I fancy. Will you kindly drop a line to Mr. Duffer and tell him what I have said above? I hope to send him shortly an order for the sum due. — If any thing more be published, I should name Mary more the epistles of John, John 13 – 17 inclusive, the epistles of John, Exposition of Peter II, Sabbath Meditations, and 6 Sermons to Pentecost. The last of these was published in the Guardian from Oct 1862 to March 1864, if I remember rightly.

I do not think the Septuagint or the whole so good a version as our English. In some places it is grossly defective. From the version commonly used in the days of our Lord and the apostles, and therefore used by them in arguing with the people &c. Their example is an argument for the use of translations with the vernacular. —

Love to Mrs. Allen[illegible], the Darlingtons and all other dear friends. Remember me kindly to Mr Scott & to Dr Stevens when you see him. J. Mitchell also. I am writing expressly for the photographs, & want you all there. — The paper in the Album is kept blank. Yours

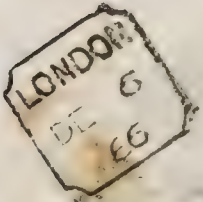
Yours in love

Dorothy

Nov 13 86

IENTLY
MPED
Mrs. Harriet Bowen
48 West Washington Place
New York
U. S.
N.Y. 24 PAID
DEC
OR U.S.
NOTES.



LONDON
DE 6
EG

Dombey, May 23, 1865

My dear Kate,

I am waiting for June 13th. Thanks for the time. The letter covering the Dollar, the bye-pic came duly to hand. I am not a gm fear. It's a mystery how it did not become. The letter contains the photographs, Harriet and family. When I shot my friends my album, the above mentioned parties are conspicuous by their absence. This should not be. I gm must with the exception of parties from them a good wedding, or any other form of moral suasion. Religion this holiday I pardon remainder.

sent one of course the money intended for you. Did not I tell you that the books from Miller Wyld & Co. had been considered yours?
Do you want them? If so, I will get you the value. You think I have over-valued them. It was a common saying with authors. As for the Trustees' matter that is for one's self.

I remember Mr. Prichard very well, and I am glad I do not remember him. — I have not seen any of Mr. Muhlbach's historical romances, a kind of Romance I am a good deal and I dread the effect of the Atlantic.
We have all the American missionaries here but one now, at a meeting at Mr. Mc Lean's still die. They and Mr. Munger are always most intended to denote [illegible] you; they generally [illegible] any [illegible] from Cotton, Mather and Burr achasm. Mr. Woodbridge my [illegible] Lisbon. — Mr. Munger is spending some months with Mr. Hawley and his little one at Bridgeport. — Tom unexpectedly has seen the Deans before this. I gave them a letter to you. They are in great danger of Mr. Chapin, as [illegible] we will have seen by Mr. Saunderson. — I am glad to hear you speak of Mr. Chapin.

But I have taken him, &c. He going to be married. If you do not acquainted with her you will find her an uncommon person. He makes a mark. — I fear that you women are getting too much liberty in America. It is thought that more you get the more you want. And all you can get. Impartial suffrage comes next and then the vote will be no check, I suppose. — What we want is more modesty, more shame-faced, but more heart to do the work before us. Remember me, Mrs. Chapin has this, and I trust wherein she may be, she may be much profited by hearing the sermon. Capt. Hammond, my friend, remember him with great gratitude, for he was the means of leading him to Christ, who he was upon in the Gospel. Love to all

Yours Truly

Dear Bro

No time to write now.

Just off to Nyssa. Many thanks for your August letter. The Lord bless you. Ever Yours

S Hamm

Mon. this a.m. Th 12 th, expecting to go on Th 14 th. PS is to-day Rs 13 Rs, and Rs is my little stock-purse of my lords & masters, so I am beg up with unfeminine determination or grant! You may compare this with a last-letter I sent. You will not dare to say anything against this, I think, dis cher.

Madam it is! it is of necessity enough, and am fortified by my skin. But it is a pleasure of my wilful Act Boy, I am for. I dare scarcely trust a sentence in the agonies of today.

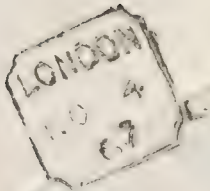
1867

Mrs. Harriet Bowen
48 West Washington Place
New York

Per Steamer



LONDON
N.O 4 67

My dear Nannie & Kate

I have just been writing to Frank. A gentleman who passed through Penang on his return to America, a Mr. Chase, told me that he had spent some time with him at Yokohama last winter, Captain Bartlett & called them. Frank had told him that he had a boy, a missy & (one) baby. He was then for his health. He is a merchant in Macao, (Portuguese port 60 miles from Canton) & is in both the business, that is the sends Chinese carpets & silks to America. Mr. Chase said Smith was a most gentlemanly person & moving in very good society. He is thin, it appears. I am sick at heart. Some friends are leaving in the steamer for America daily. Smith suddenly decided upon it with them. He told Mr. Chase he would return by the German steamer. I suppose he did not go. His business relations are with New York & Liverpool. Mr. Chase did not dare him speak against religion, but got it idea that it was simply indifferent, careless or unobservant. He spoke as though he thought it a strange thing I should be spending my life as a missionary.

I now told him about Mrs. Hunt, and how we got him if he was willing to take even some risk for his health, & came to Foochow, and how I came & left her with Mrs. Hunt & Miss Woodin. Of course I told him of Mrs. Hunt's death. It is a great thing that he was taken away from us. I cannot but hope that this is the beginning of his interest. I hope you will be interested in him.

I gave the Ohio yesterday.
Perhaps he will call upon you. — I am not sure from your [illegible] Jany 31 / A.
I wrote to Dallas Thursday you a letter that must have been sent in by Wagner last, relying him to send a supply for Daily Meditation.
Two American ships have come in and by my surprise have brought nothing. I am sorry for a number of persons who write for comics.
I shall endeavor to work for him this. Hawley is to clean my work for Annie.
I understand that Mr Porter has been married only three weeks

When Mr. Bartlett died.

Dajitha is standing on the door and reading a Book the Count Egotha in our house, to whom I then speak from the steps. 136

14th. My dear wife writing from Bromley Kent-ing every Saturday. You cannot believe how anxious they are to get out of Calcutta, the most unhealthy station in the Island.
Instead of Ceylon they should be sent to England or India as embassadors of the Queen of Otaheite to Southampton. I suppose a small 28 or 30 cent. stamps. — I spent the Evening at the Steam. They have a Col. & Mrs. Kirby and a Mr.
Chamberlain living with them. Mrs. people, and they are all learning to study the mind of God together, and when I come they have a lot of questions to ask me. How is our own delightful Bible communion from the mind of God. It is that which God has given to form the temple of man in his own way, and in which all the true saints and true worshippers

I endose a letter for Br. Dulles.
I forgot my last meal from Jackie Please him.

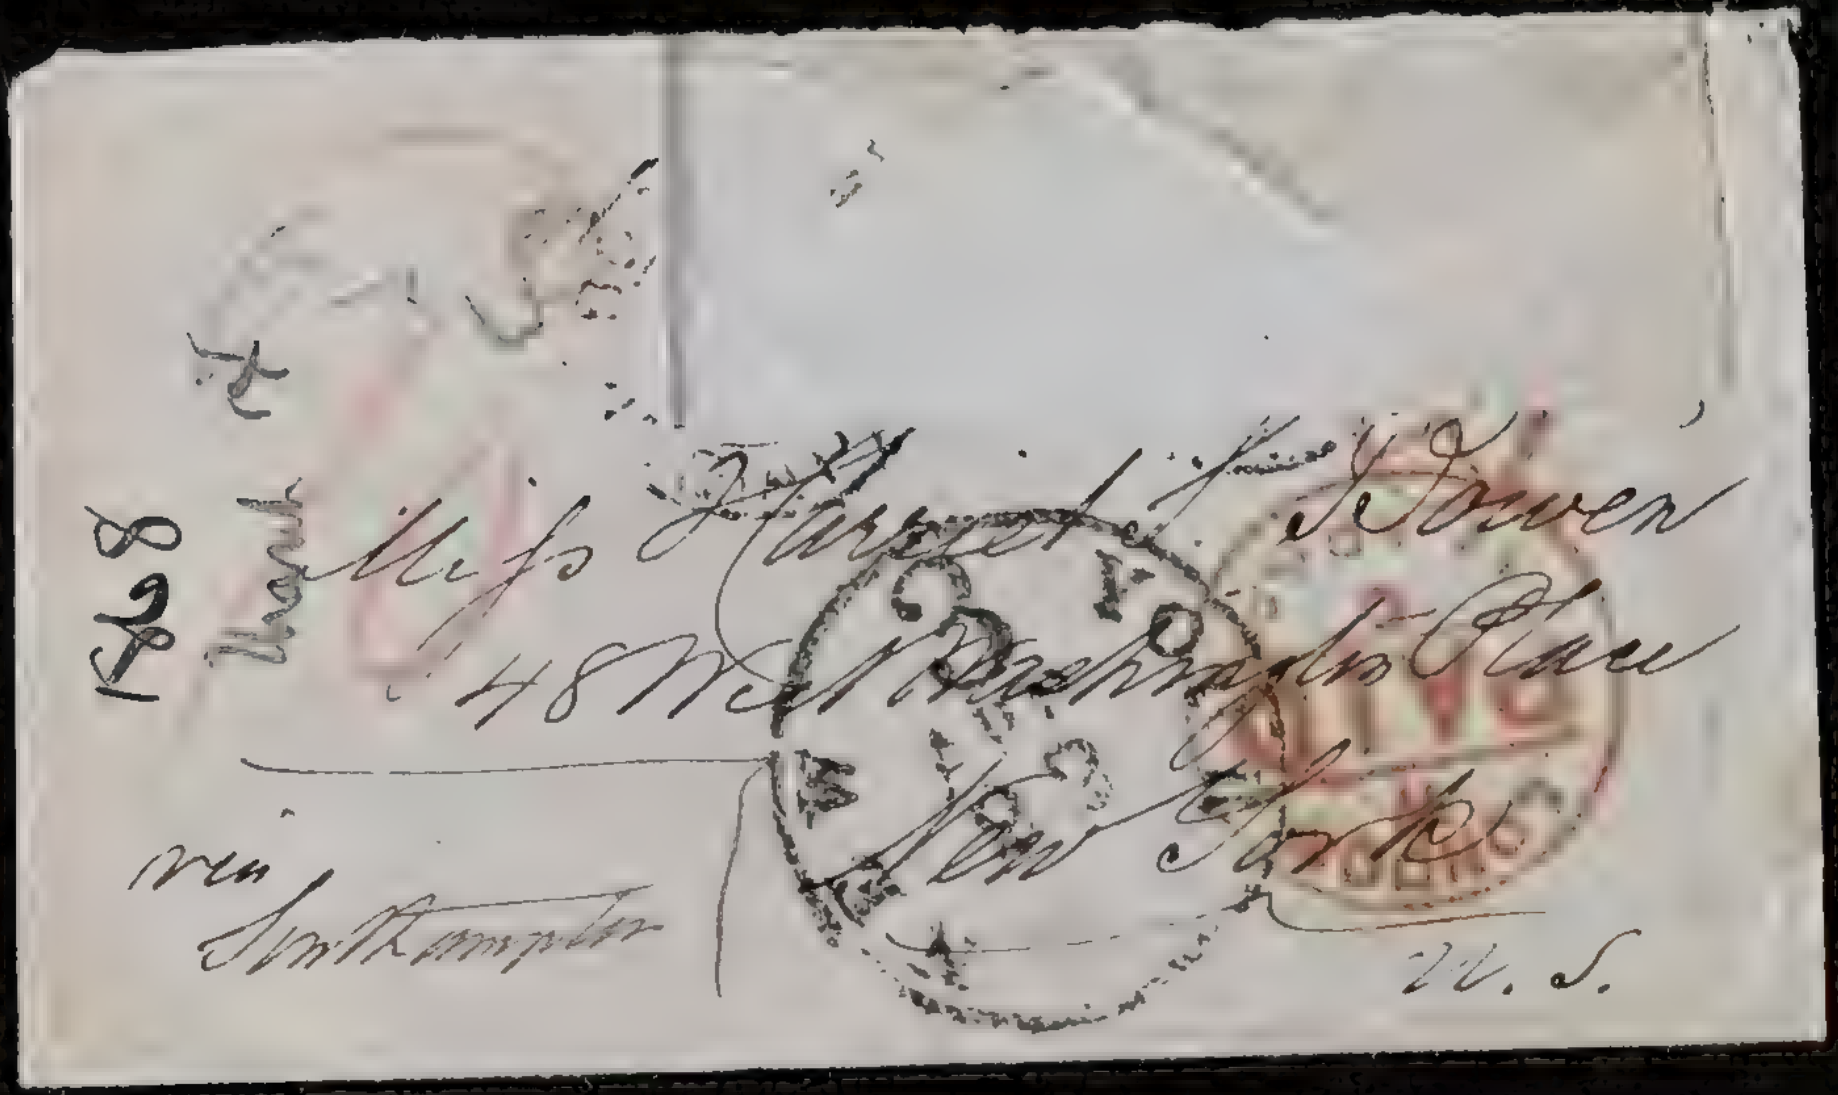
Kenny sent Thompson for you.
I was + I am upset with Carter

Lieut Porter

Bowling Mar 24/68



June 16

My dear Sisters.

You will be sorry to hear that I have got no reply from Frank. Still I do not think that Kate's sight is her suspicion that he made up the story he told Mr. Chase. I may be wrong. But looking at his antecedents I do not think any thing more probable than that he should be in the Early trade and should be living in a Portuguese town. Perhaps he was absent when my letter reached Macao. Perhaps he got it and him or mind to answer. Perhaps as Kate suggests he does not like him. I hope B. just light on this coast here. A crazy name, ain't mine, Commander Bowen, R. N. Admiralty Agent on the P. & O. Co's steamer to China, promised me to write for B. Macao and hunt him up. I did not encourage him mind to do so, as I am afraid he will not do Bank any good, being only demented (no innuendo in the pun). But now I hope I shan't be long here and learn whether it is all a fiction or not. If so, I shall soon know. We have had three mails from Hongkong since I began to copy out letters from Frank.

I hope you will have seen some of the friends to whom I gave letters, Mr Harding Mrs. Stearns, Capt. Hancock. Mr. H. Harding lost his little boy in Liverpool, he misses that cast to me like a eye.

Your last letter was eighty stamped 30 ¢

The ship with Kate's present husband arrived, is pretty due.

Is Sam Atterbury still expanding from his wife? It seems to me she monopolizes him, & refuses to let him write, which she refuses to let him write and he submits to it as she has grown to do. I am sorry to hear of his pecuniary trouble. Perhaps good may come out of it.

If I had time I would write to Atterbury, I do not suppose I could make him stop & do not suppose he would make her or stop me. (I mean with regard to my expatriation, condemned by her.)

I need not say that I have been greatly touched by your proposal to come out to Boston. The thought is most charming. I feel most open to any. But is only that I can say. Time & you, & circumstances of many things are necessary. Have you the means of coming? Will the climate agree with you? Will you be able to support your family? Will I be able to support you, should there be need? All these are disposed of by a clear mind to what the will of God is. But is this to be so?

Almost all the European have send their children home to be educated. There are few children

here except those of soldiers and those of the poorest classes of civilians.
They are generally taught in Egyptian schools, together with men of the higher Egyptian classes at the Universities. Schools for European children are known needed; in the last few years several have been established, and there ought to be many more in every town. There is a Native Girls' School under the care of Mrs. Mitchell (widow of a missionary), but I am sorry to say that the teaching of Christianity is not allowed.

Other educational work is in connection with Missions.

There is an admirable sphere of activity for missionary ladies, in visiting the families of the Natives, conversing with them, teaching them to sew &c, to read and speak English, and the Bible is not excluded. This work is very efficiently carried on in Calcutta. Bible instruction is permitted because the Natives know that it may not be the visit of the missionary lady. She is supported by the Mission, that is, by Christian friends at home. To do this work it is necessary to learn a language. To learn great need in Bombay and workers. A society of ladies in Boston (under the auspices of the Am. Board) and the Mission Rooms, 10 Bigelow St. Boston, is a corresponding Society.

But I dare not say anything to lead you to come. I cannot assume such a responsibility. It must be for you to find out the will of the Lord in the matter. For the present I will not urge this point.

Glad to hear you mention Dr. Skinner. What pleasant recollections I have of him. Remember me affectionately to him when you see him again. I am in a street car & will write more by and by.

The monsoon has set in. We have had a pretty fair number of light showers, mixed with rain. I dont like drops of heavy dashes that month, and only 1 this month. I think I am benefitted by pouring water on my head every morning. —

Mrs. Raitt, an old pupil of mine one of the Miles' family, has just come to Bombay again. She has been eight years in England. Her husband, Major Raitt, has a civil appointment here.

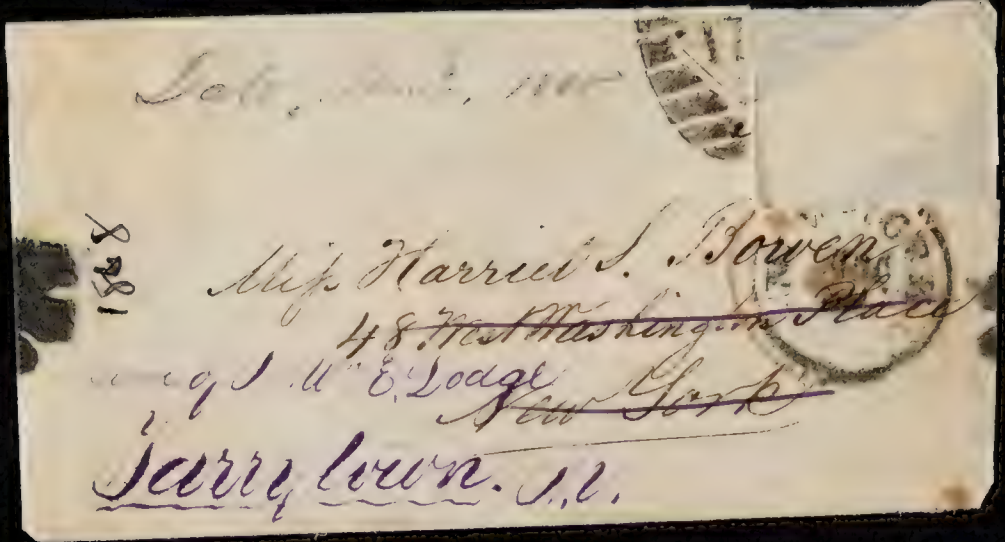
There is amazingly little of the spirit and power of religion here. Iniquity abounds and the love of many waxes cold.

William kindly forwarded the enclosed letter by addressing "33 Pemberton Square, Boston," or by sending it to the rooms in New York.

The Lord bless you and guide you both; guide you, above all things, into all truth. Your affectionate brother

Geo. Bowen

Bombay, June 16, 1868



Boston, Aug 17, 1863

My dear Miles

A steamer sails for Genl Gillmore's dept July 1. I am still another month after that since mine of May 18th, acknowledging receipt of yours getting me appointed Surgeon of Vols. I am paid off & will disappear from Genl Hospitals. I had no idea that you were seriously ill, and when I get that letter mentioned it must be returned to me. I can't know what happiness it would be to have you here, but not if it compromises your health. Now if I should go home and then decide that I could go again can I? I am so glad you saw Capt Emerson. He seemed to me from his first visit I got here as if I knew him & he with me. Did I answer by mail. When you talk about becoming a member of the family, you must bear in mind that I have been a principle in the case I created, most people would call it a very bad one. You are my friend & with you daily, and tell me take care of yourself as much as possible. One would think I was a wretched invalid. I should naturally care for you.

You will learn ere this of Grandma's death. She and I were quietly attached to each other. You understood her as I did. Nature was long & painfully. She was an unpleasant mark to leave in. When she came & Bowditch & Miss M. wanted me to go to Mrs Ives, I let him with them and let them take care of me. I was with them at the time of the funeral a week, going afterwards to the meetings. It was a kind of half home. I was with him in my mind in his illness and esteemed it a great privilege to be so. I spent many nights for a week with him; then was little to be done and my services were not much broken. It had been much harder for Mrs. M. if I had not been there. For some days he was speechless & could not even swallow. The day before his death he was more from the waters or around, having come for the July meeting. He was able to recognize them. He was all alone but his daughter when he died. — Mrs. Munger left May 4 for Rome via England, taking Florence the little girl whom they had adopted. I gave her a note to you. Should you ever see her remember she is a very dear friend of mine.

A few days before Br. Munger's death I received Kate's very kind and long-expected present which I valued much, though I cannot say I speak to me very much of Ma. It did not [illegible] with me from Rome & brings the scenes. I do not think the best portrait painter in the world would be able to convey a bad photograph with a good portrait. Still I find it pictures my mind and am greatly obliged to you dear Kate for your kind trouble. The expression is excellent. I like it far better than the other and not as much as you when Mr Root came. I am glad you sent me not painted. I was somewhat annoyed at you considering that they look like me. — A friend who is just now engaged with the photographic matrix took them. Mine is a group taken lately, mostly being only them. It is exceedingly good. I shall send you one

I am glad you have so many letters one can answer & are able to pass it so pleasantly & I dare say profitably to yourselves & to others. — Mr Munger from Rome. I found a Guardian & him for some months, & then stopped there.

I am much interested in Kate's account of information about Humphreys. When I remember you in my prayers from I cannot give up the hope that a way will be found of God. By course, in connection with the [illegible] I should hope the fire by [illegible] not [illegible] [illegible] will prove him.

Emma I don't not [illegible] Elizabeth Porter. She has been a real one. She would sharpen and soften on others as the case required. The command to suffer long implies that there are some not easily borne with. From what you say I fancy she has a little of your own temper. It would not be uncommon evil, so beware.

Mrs Harding went with Thomas Hart Benton without stopping. — Mrs Hume has been in N. Y. for a year with an invalid daughter, Susanna, with [illegible] disease. She has been trying the Rest Cure Movement and staying at the place where Pat Treatment is used in the Corpus Christi [illegible] Sunderland. I wish you had known of and could run see her. Hannah. I remember the letter well, a dear little girl. I do not know if she is still there or not.

I had lately a letter from Br. Dudley. It was dated July 3, but came a week before yours dated July 1, both from Marseilles. He sent the books I wanted to & I am glad I did. I [illegible] you got them. [illegible]

I send 2 gm sisters 10 cents. Please regard them as yours. Give my love to the Carlingtons, Whitbums, Burns, Antinuttis & others. — I am glad to get such a cheerful account of your Birthday Dinner. — I hope you will not print 8 more Digits. — A friend, mine the Butlers last has miss my medically this Day. He had only been married a few months. He was formerly in this Country as Miss Kennedy. He proposed to her but she declined. In Scotland, she thought better of it. He married his proposal. She not I as the case may be you. But the parents sent my sweetheart, but she would come on & marry dearly as the fiancée was a Civil Engineer & was then Rich in Prospects. He was then dear ill. She is comforted by knowing how well he spared she was. She was very handsome but bad, all the beauty of the land was upon her. So on this. —

The Steams stopped a while in Europe. —

I am visiting a lady dying of internal Cancer, and another, of I know not what. Her husband was of the Army of the Rhine in 1864, dispensing fortunes.

The Tilden have not yet paid me any interest of returns.

I received a letter from Mr. Dalley, Rich Country priest.

The photographs are Russell, Garibaldi, Bonis, Hayes, Hall 1878. Made just during & with the Eclipse. The sky was veiled in clouds, and I only once or twice caught a glimpse of the sun's disc with the new moon then first seen. But the darkness was very quite from 1 after 4 to 4 after 5.

I am dear Sister Jim in sympathetic Love

I received a letter from Mrs. Hume. Thought it was B

from Ross

per Prussia

Attleboro Sept 7

1848

Miss Clara L. Bowen

48 Wm Pinkney Place

New York

U. S.

via Southampton

PAID

My dear Wilson,

It is nearly two months I think since I last wrote you. I then had given up hopes of your coming; I cannot say that it has been any disappointment to me that I had anticipated. I was much pleased to see that you were willing to leave your business for a time, if your presence was deemed necessary upon the prospect of your coming; but then I did not like to leave Jennie. We all dearly love that sister and her husband, Fletcher. I felt that the decision must rest with you. It is quite unnecessary that you should come and tell me you would rather stay; but the contrary is always agreeable.

I send the inclosed letter which I received from a person in London, named Pinnock, I believe, a Missionary. My dear wife I have more than once, in the communications we have jointly addressed the Society, how you might be placed in your native land, should sickness or other trouble arrive, or, supposing you now do all you can to assist me in my Ministerial or Missionary. And while we are ready to admit God's own gracious care for the Church and each one of his people, we have measure in the belief that it is our duty as well as privilege, as God has given us the means abundantly, to say your acceptance of the enclosed document. This document was a draft for Rs 10.000 deposited by his friend in my name in a Bank in Bombay last May. He says: "I have placed the amount at interest for a period of years, which may possibly save you some present trouble. The investment and known and the disposal of principal and interest, remain with you entirely absolutely. It is not our wish in any way to dictate to you in the particular manner in which it is to be used; but we are inclined to hope that while it may be of service in providing for our personal wants, a portion of the capital may be expended in enabling you to extend your visits to your own country." Is not this generosity? Love to Christian love? You will surely pray for these dear Christian friends. I give you their names, but you need not expect to see them: Mr. & Mrs. C. B. Ker. The money you understand is locked up for five years; only the interest is available. — If the money had not been given in this way, I should have felt it my duty to get rid of it in some way.

About a fortnight after receiving the letter, I received from my friend the bond for him in Bombay, expressing in the same way the possibility of my wishing to marry, and asking me to let him place Rs. 2500 at my disposal for this purpose. I told him in reply that I did not intend marrying, and could not avail myself of his offer. You must hold him in affectionate remembrance.

Connected with all this I have never during these 20 months asked any human being for a price for myself. It has been a fixed principle with me never to do it. Although my circumstances did not seem consistent with such a life of faith as I wished to lead, I intimated to no one, in any way, my requirement. I have now told, I suppose, all. I prayed I did. I have never thought it proper to intercede to any man for myself, but to my Father.

I am glad you both have an copy of your own birth. I remember the circumstances well. Please give him my kind regards. How is he employed? Remember me to all your friends there, but I don't know of them. I hope you have received a letter from me. — I have not had a line from Capt. Hancock. I hope he will come without delay. That will be a great treat. — I hope to hear from you again before I leave the Cape. — I am now [illegible] a drawing of my house, for the [illegible] Meeting, but it remains to be seen if there is room. Dr. Smith. You remember how I was stopped last year. — I don't know if I told you of such a lady I was visiting, who was dying of internal cancer. She died on board of ship in the harbour, a few hours after I had seen her. On the lady whom I was visiting died some days ago, Mrs. Dutton. I know her as Miss Cooper when I first came to Bombay. I shall not write more but to tell Eliza. Mrs. D. left behind her two little ones, but she had an anxious, peaceful & prepared death, and said to me, Thanks be unto God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

1868

Oct 8

Miss Clara A. Dixon

418 Washington Street

New York

N. Y.

Bombay, January 1, 1869

My dear Kate,

Another year finds me separated by daily the circumference of the globe; but I still on the globe and with ten thousand causes of thankfulness.
Though the third has not yet finished its orbit round for a season, he has found, and will yet find, that many of appearing his great and tender love.
He is willing to show us in Christ, a way by heading height, depth of love passing knowledge, and yet by perseverance. Why should we not be strong in such appropriation? But it must be allowed that love and more in the heart according to its own laws. Sometimes, on reaching the head of a gorge we will very strongly, casting the anil that precious thing out of the window, tearing down that marriage ornament, and instead of bitter, we will down to a banquet country in provisions for our wretched ones.
And the angel-guest must be allowed to have his own way, and in that soon we find the advent of blessedness. It is not the consciousness that Love divine will and does, that makes the heart of even the believer content daily with what it does, that Love. Let us forget the things that are behind and press towards the mark for the incomparable prize

I am thankful my acquaintance was very much

Jan 1. 1869

afflicted lately. His eldest son aged 15½ having been two years in school at Mt Aloro (4 or 5 miles N. of this) was swimming a pond by with 3 other boys and a servant. The latter had a gun which he had been told by no means to let the boys have. But English boys in this country are under no control by Native servants, and so they got the gun to shoot with. He shot a bird that fell into a large pond and went with the water after it; his feet got entangled in the weeds and he was drowned. Three nights in succession Mr. Darby went to the station & met his son, the third night the other boys arrived with the sad story. He is terribly cut up about it. I have known him 20 years. I married him & his present wife. At one time I used to meet him in evening meetings. My late years he has formed his whig associations in Love-Mission. One of his elders, that as men are dead in their passes and sins, ministers and all who labor for the salvation of men show that they know nothing about religion by calling on men to repent and believe. He was one of a very small body of the elect destined to be saved whatever he did. — I wrote him when I heard of his loss and want to see him. He appears much offended. Looks upon the event as a judgment which he has brought on himself by his sins & backslidings. I pray God it may be the means of opening his eyes to the state of his heart and his need of grace. — Thanks for the Visiting cards. I dry with the ironer. I generally do without, but sometimes when shut up to it I damp out them out of the thick paper that comes round in reams of letter paper.

Where is Mr. Pallin or Dr. Potter now? Could I see him in New York? Has he any change. Thanks for your amusement, Elizabeth Potter. It is not very funny I think she might be more pious. — I read with much interest Cathy's letter from Miss Kitty Munroe to Mr. Powell. It was an excellent letter. Have all my own people been, any of my old friends. Yes truly, two I have seen. Have you any intimate acquaintance from Connecticut? Miss Whittlesey, do now? I am very thankful that you are permitted to stay in Boston for the present. — I am anticipating the pleasure of hearing you preach. How do you like my new pantaloons? Mamma unites in Christian love to Mr. Parkes. Pam sends you kisses & comes again. In love from us

Good night

Bombay, November 2, 1869

My dear Harriet

Your letter of Sept 22nd came alone, Kate being at that time at the Devons. My last letter I sent you under cover to Mr Wilder & whom I was sending letters at that time, — I am pleased Mr Evans is with you and received every letter I got from you then under my dearest & love from you. Dear Frances from Mrs Wall Smith &c. &c. I am very glad you had a pleasant time at Ascot & enjoyed the change, I cannot tell you how I long to remember to you all & to be with you in Christ.

I am glad you have decided on a Christmas. I think you could get a boat the Steamer you would like the most. — I am very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs Wilder's mother, how dark the providence of God is to us. How little we can control the affairs of life. Take like the Devons. Here, we do not expect ice and snow, blankets, &c. &c. &c., down, but the Europeans require all around them. We can afford to lose Musicians.

Mr. & Mrs. Wells have arrived from America. They will be stationed at Ahmednuggur. They are I think a valuable accession. Mr. Wells was in the war four years & lost his right arm. They are Western people. We expect the Hardings in a few days.

If the Suez Canal should prove a success, the steamers of [illegible] Line will soon [go] through to Liverpool. In that case Capt. Hanscom proposes having his family in Liverpool where he could be with them every other month. Our telegraph has broken down, and we have been a good while without recent telegrams from Europe. Soon however we shall have a new land line ready, and, it is hoped, a line by the Red Sea.

Mr. & Mrs. Hazen are now in Bombay. He is examiner in Marathi, for the University; this requires him to be here two or three weeks. I was asked to act, but declined, and suggested him instead.

Captain [illegible] has given me a picture of himself & family for you. I enclose it. When I arrived at Ahmednuggur last month (myself being there) the photographer of the place called upon me & asked me to sit for my portrait to oblige him. (Others had put him up to it, I fancy) I could not refuse. They say the likeness taken is the best. But you have charged me not to send you any more, as they interfere unpleasantly with your ideal. Well, dream on.

I was a good deal out of sorts before I left Bombay. Ten days of insomnia and loss of appetite and I was not what [illegible]. As soon as I got away, I recovered. I spent two days very pleasantly in Poona at Col. Kirby's, a friend of mine [illegible]. The missionary force at the Ahmednuggur meeting was smaller than I had ever known it. [illegible] missionary besides myself, [illegible] with Mr. [illegible], principal of the Ch. Ver. Ed. Soc's Normal School [illegible] my good friend Mr. Small, of the Free Ch. Mission, Poona, [illegible]. I enjoyed the meetings and the Chr. intercourse very much. There has been scarcely any [illegible] the Mission Church in [illegible], by accession from without, for several years, and this [illegible] the case with other Missions. Nor is there that progress within, that increase of spiritual life that we would hope for. — There is a Ritualistic Bishop here now, and Sacramental Religion is in full swing [illegible] fashionable Europeans & [illegible].

26th. The Wells & Hazens have gone to Ahmednuggur [illegible] I could not get time. The island [illegible] on capacious harbour [illegible], and the winds and tides have methods of their own

The Swaylands is an accomplished fact. We have the new house and the grounds and many of the old trees, and the Pippin Council. Antichrist ... I like with his mark and show wounds to be a Power. The comforting sense is that the Lord will come and is from his place coming, & keeping - his mouth has spoken & his word is at home and not in Heaven only.

Miss Fanny Hagen is in Scotland studying away with great enthusiasm. Mary is in Northampton with Aunt Mrs. Sedgwick. The Scotland landed in N.Y. Oct 7 and went on to Amherst the same day. You will see Miss Dyer's Diary, and get the facts from Mrs Dalles.

What more dear Lily say? What letter more of yours can Kate hear. A delightful sense of the Lord's nearness and an increasing conviction of his faithfulness. Pray always that I obey he enabled to endure unto the end, and that the world may get the feeling of all the deed that Christ has done in my heart. And may God give you and Kate and Fanny grace to do all that is pleasing in His sight and for His love expressed in His own Son.

Dear Lily God bless you

Yours

Will you kindly get the enclosed delivered to Sam Ray.

12 a1
1869
Dec. 25
Miss Harriet S. Bowen
48 West Washington Place
New York
U. S Marseilles

7 Feb. 70

My dear Harriet & Nelly,

So many months have gone by since I left [illegible] that many [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] has been [illegible]. I cannot tell you how [illegible] what [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] on the occasion in New York: [illegible] 22 years [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] esteemed friend, with his son and daughter [illegible] fellow [illegible] in law. It was Saturday, the 22, [illegible] of Jan. [illegible] Hamer [illegible] away. The office closes early on Saturday, so I went to the door, and found an elderly gentleman [illegible] 'What, is that you, George Barrow? I knew him at once, and recognized his features as soon as I looked at them. He reminded me somewhat of his father. [illegible] here till Monday the 31st, stopping at the [illegible] Hotel. Happily I was able to spend a good deal of time with them, seeing them every day. I found him the same warm-hearted fellow as ever, and he seemed to be very fond of running over the events of our former

...ciousness, and his memory was committed ...mandments to what I had learn from just [illegible] his mine. I saw very little of him after 1838 after his conversion, when we were in Europe, ...ing again in the ministry, and I always ...ught it and still the kindliest effect upon ...ir lives and daughters in my mind. He became engaged to Miss Van Rensellaer before they were both a child in their nursery. He seems ...e Christian down and I hope will make her ...e happy husband. We spent an entire day ...gether, visiting Walden Lake & the Kinney Caves. ...e this day, my own leaders of Latin Society invited us to pay the visit with him. He visited ...e, upon making all arrangements for paying all expenses himself, providing carriages, horses, feeding and lodging &c. &c. &c. He was a splendid specimen of the Canary Indian Race he is. I have known him for many years. (He has been for years a subscriber to [illegible] Journal). His conversation was very much on the subject of Christianity, but we did very much to induce him to stop for it. He early went with ...e Walden Lake (3 miles) in our Omnibus, at daybreak. ...ly, I have been visiting some missionary friends at a post near there, the only hour; I selected all visits and joined the Omnibus early in the morning.

Then was to Prince Albert. I was invited to by the Missionary, Mr Lent. Mrs Lent, a most kind American lady was there, all the appearance of a true Christian. They were most quiet, as we say, Dutch. Mr Lent is a most kind gentleman, I have many things to say. I like Mrs Lent is an Orkney, very pretty situated in the [illegible] Lake that feed it. Here we took horses and rode for two or three hours through a dense Indian jungle, finding the path as we best could. Trees of all sizes and forms, growing in such fantastic ways as are not dreamed of in your colder and calmer climes, wonderful ferns and flowers in rich abundance. The Indian came out first up in the side of the hill, in a most retiring spirit, and all seem eagerly to remember of former days. This was once a vast [illegible] Monastery, perhaps a Shrine, or sacred place of retirement. In many Christ and forest cares, the servants had just [illegible] Camas mill and made this arrangement. Then we [illegible] about noon, and spent the day [illegible] the cares, [illegible] in the Government wear, in front of a [illegible] fallen up an artificial [illegible]

Stamped
3c
MR 21
Miss Alice [illegible]
48 West Washington Place
New York N.Y.
1870
N.Y. 26

My dear Daniel & Kate,

There is a surplus Grand Jury fund entirely at my disposal & I do not know of any more urgent use for it — at all events, it is impressed upon me that I should spend it here, and I do so. Enclosed is an order for $150.

I am glad to get your letter of January 19th. Kate asks about postage. The postage from Am'st & Hadley via Southampton is 22 cents, via Marseilles 30 cents. The Fairbanks and younger children are living in Illinois with his friends. The elder children are at Amherst.

For Mr. Lincoln's every Friday or Saturday, & Sunday, & Monday, & Tuesday, I will spend generally at the Mansion & the rest of the week at the Court House.

A Miss Verrow has come out here & engage in Zenana Work. She is the daughter of a Primitive Methodist Minister. She will perhaps go to Ahmednuggur to learn the Language. Mrs. Hardy has picked up Mr. Marathi very quickly, notwithstanding her 20 years in America.
She is visiting the Zenanas of the Natives as she will have them over her, and is very much pleased at the reception she meets with. You must not suppose that there is any desire to learn the Scriptures; what Western called Native desire is to have their wives come in contact with European ladies and learn their ways and get their polish.

Out of the seven American missionaries in W. India (not including myself) three are at the Mahableshwar Hill, Bruce, Wood, Hazen. Disgusted that Dr. Wood's son Eddie was out of his mind. You must excuse bad writing. This is a big place. I hope it may please the Lord soon to welcome him. He gave good evidence of having turned to the Lord.

I think I wrote you quite recently.
I always look anxiously for some token in your letters that Baird

; bearing in the Lord. His providence when we are baffled in our expectations, & causes us to the Lord does not intend that in other matters for which we more earnestly contend.

I fancy you will be interested in the life of Dr Brown missy to China, when you see it. It is a gaining I 1849 when I printed that letter in Missionary Magazine, a gentleman in his acquaintance in Bombay, sent him a copy, and I understand he impressed him: Low & all

Yours
Geo Bowen

Miss Otis
April 8/70

The English mail for Bombay, leaves London

LONDON-W
X
MY 2 70
Miss Harriet L. Stone
480 Washington Place
New York
U. S.

My dear Sister,

I received the other day from you dated 10, but I cannot discover much sense from your missive. I am moved by your account of Mrs. Webster's death. It has caused me a great deal of grief. I am very sorry that all these years went by without any communication between them and me. I do not know whether you have seen the daughter Emma since the death of her Mother.
I had also forgotten the name of that I had visited as your father's baptism.
Was it this, I wonder? Early in 1844.
I have not the slightest recollection of it, should almost think it a mistake on my part. Please tell me what you know about it. Is Frank, the boy I sent mine

New York? Yes I have written a letter to Augustus Stetson. Kindly drop and post it. — Matt. is aware the possession of property often proves. I have seen many Bibles by it just as old as you.

20 cts of stamps in a letter via Southampton is too much. 24 cts will cover it. Liverpool is now only 6 cts between Eng. & Am.

You will have seen in The Guardian a brief notice of a meeting of Native Christians. Col. Crapie a friend of mine in Burmah, came home last autumn to collect money for the general Karen mission which he visited on it's behalf for the promotion of missionary & educational operations. He was a very nice man. The Gen. Baptists Committee, a large society, invited me for the evening; about 175 came together & about 20 were Ladies & Gentlemen of the Native Church who expressed, through the Native Christian Society, their desire to be present because I was to Enter evening and did not like to hinder them from coming. In the course of the evening I addressed them from the 15th of John. All the Americans present could do. All seemed to enjoy it & were, and I trust it may profit.

Mrs. Chapin Barron is now in Vienna and has been there since last Autumn, studying medicine. She seemed very pleasing, and I know she is for the ladies of Mrs. Stanley's Society. She came with a good letter from Mrs. Lily Dean, Boston, but I did not know I had an opportunity, as they were not, I think, helpful to the Guardian. Hope she may be spared & that she may have many of us in prayer.

I am interested in what you say about Frank's literary attempts. I have no doubt of his ability, but am prepared to hear that he fails in this, as I believe God is dealing with him as He dealt with me, frustrating and baffling this my own plans and schemes, and secret of God's. He may bring him out of this at last, may be in answer to prayer. His ways are not as our ways, nor His thoughts as our thoughts. Alas for us if we are prospered in our own way; this is the coming fatality of life. Alas for us if graciously visited in our own way; how prematurely we begin to think ourselves and friendly opposition. Let us humble ourselves beneath the mighty hand of God,

there is no disgrace in it; whereas true is real disgrace in trembling under the mighty hand of man, and waiting upon man for deliverance; let us humble ourselves beneath the mighty hand which is over us, in sore affliction, to get us under it, and He will lift us up in due time. I send them thanks to Bank; they are not mine, but God's; and if He will answer them as a kind and loving Master from above, they will be worth more than the Legislature will ever dream of bestowing upon any of them, until they have been of Eternity.

There has been a very interesting revival of Religion in Smith Hadley & Amherst, Miss Fanny Hazen is, as usual, blessing & enriching formerly dear there, she gets very full letter, and I know dear mama interested in hearing of the movements of dear. There are nearly 300 guests of nearly all nationalities. Almost all the missionary ladies from Constantinople.

It is what is called the best season, and most people that know the means are at their stations. But it is very pleasant here, & remarkably healthy. The rains come on soon.

Capt. Dawson left on the 21st in the Nile for Liverpool via the Suez Canal. I hope he will return; it is a delightful trip.

Ever your affectionate brother

Geo. Brown

Please put it [illegible] and all love [illegible]. Father will write to you when I get home. Mail closes at Antwerp on the [illegible] Tuesday.

Boston, May 30/70

1870

May 30.

1870
Dec 2
Miss Annie S. Brown
4 & 6 Washington Square
New York
N. Y.

My dear Annie,

I send you for semi-annual Rt. 200. I will pay you [illegible] anything more for my annuity.
Miss Mary, I send Lynd & you Kate. If you see Miss [illegible] tell her I enjoy so much seeing her. Enjoyed well myself. Kate comes to see us to[illegible] & [illegible]. Jam not much [illegible] is no wind I cannot sit, but can write by this way. It is a mistake [illegible] accident with the mill [illegible]. Tom who [illegible] me in myself [illegible] generally [illegible]

given it to the Lord, and it would be misapprehended if it is devoted to any other than purposes of Christian benevolence. If Jesus is not your Rule you will soon cease to walk prudently and unite with me, or that I may very properly insist upon it to the extent of your need.

With regard to additions I think if not unfrequently rendered [illegible] Grieved and found wanting and known unfaithful, with that he would not be a castaway; was one of the disciples who left him. He knew exactly what he was doing by his existence. He knew that if he did not keep his body under, if he was not led by the Holy Spirit, he would be a castaway. He knew that not many of the 276 souls in the ship with him sailed to Melita would be lost; but he knew that every soul that was aboard in the ship, must remain and

XXVII. 30. But Paul reasoned on the subject in his [illegible] May 28th. He should now be upon the Island of Melita. The Romans in Italy Commonly called Calabria, and the Calabrese [illegible], the latter retained the both, Celtic and Scythian.

I have a pleasant letter by last mail from Baker & Williams from Canton. We have reached home safely this.

About a month ago I had a mail from Poti, a Circuit, some years a prisoner in Siberia, of whom [illegible] stories. He made his escape and came from

Thanksgiving, Sunday, Nov. 24

Staying at Roman Catholic College. I talked with him in Bend. He wanted Blanche St. James. — He is now living with Mr. Locke, on 6th Street, with whom I spent a very pleasant evening. He spends all his time in reading the Bible, in Greek, German, Latin and English. I hope the Lord may guide him into the truth.

Should you see Mrs. Mengers or Sanders, she would be glad to know that Mr. Walker was gone and evidence of saving faith in the Lord, and now rests his soul alone on the merits of the Blessed Saviour. Saved by grace, a debtor to mercy alone. They are both very happy. Jonny sends him a good deal about his home & his mother. — Bobbie, Emerald and Reginald, & Mrs. Mengers, & Lottie, and Jessie & Jessie; I hope he will be guarded by angels. — This poor time is time to

[illegible] instances of one and another having left [illegible] from among the Europeans, but many little [illegible] of the power has given among the Natives.
The Natives are suppose on their way here they will find our assisting her. And the Divine [illegible] our Missionaries of the Society [illegible] Gospel & Religion, & commence Ch. of England missions. &c.
The letter papers & our monthly papers [illegible] from the Mission England. The great events [illegible] in Europe in the morning an interest [illegible] in Evening. Since I [illegible] [illegible] in absence of all intelligence from [illegible], and one chance I find [illegible] the [illegible] Mrs. Lewis & [illegible].
Dec. 9 [illegible] Visitors. Our [illegible] visit [illegible] Observer. Inquiries [illegible] little work.
I should like to see Europeans [illegible] Sunday [illegible] Dr. Missionaries [illegible] to [illegible] me what I [illegible] not know. You would [illegible] me like. Ik vermoed [illegible] paper. It matters little.

Remember me kindly to [illegible] in Jan. [illegible] 22, [illegible] Marcellin 28.

I wonder if mother [illegible] this time; but must leave it [illegible] present. Give them [illegible] and Hannah a [illegible]

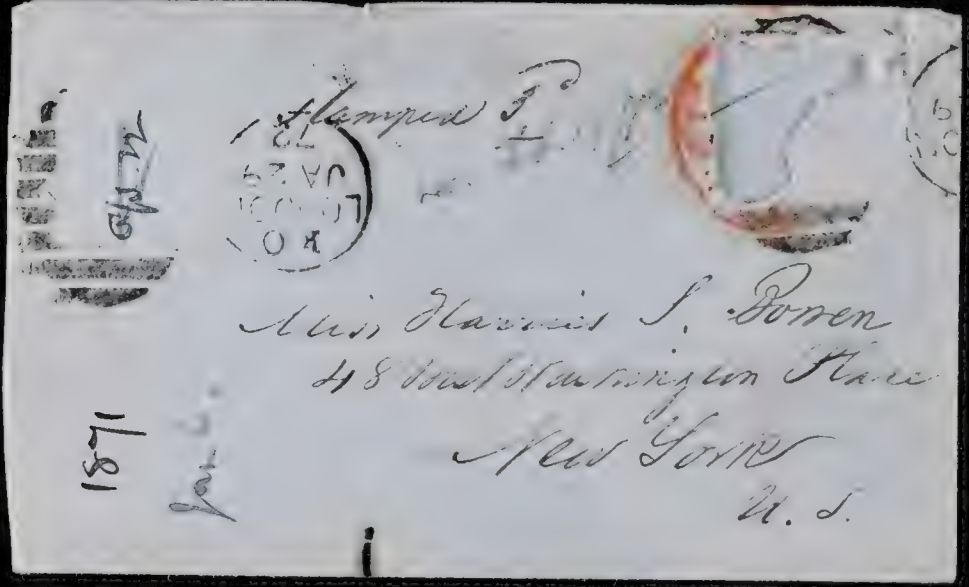
Affectionately,

Your Brother

Boston July 1[illegible]

1870

July 19



Stamped
Miss Harriet S. Bowen
418 West Washington Place
New York
U. S.
1871

My dear [illegible],

I wrote you a few days ago. I am sorry to hear of Mr. —'s illness. I sympathize with you in your disappointment about Frank. We must leave him in the hands of the Lord. He grants us medicine in sickness, but it is the Lord who heals us, and if it is His will to take Frank away from us, we must submit to it. But God has promised that all things shall work together for good to those who love Him. Let us therefore trust Him and pray for Him. He will hear our prayers and grant us our requests. Let us not be discouraged, but continue to [illegible]

[illegible] before Dec, he was in [illegible] he was in the service of his Master. I have the great happiness daily of witnessing, brodered souls are finding Him in Christ. The great thing is that my-just & sin souls saved, after that God will open in heathen salvation.
I have witnessing some remarkable conversions, i.e. the conversion of men who seemed to be lost beyond recovery. And there is a gradualness about his development & the work is a more stable one & I think that managing & I see a very effectual door is opened this is done. Dowry is such a widely diffused place, in fact a cluster of towns, that Mr.
Taylor has & shall about spend one quarter in each. He is now taken for a few weeks [illegible] on. - Mrs J the people, the upper class dislike his preaching. He teaches himself very little about Confucianism, and talks like a man who is di with the dead & dying. And I am disposed to agree with him the most just & saving sense, as saving them now, and soon [illegible] according to [illegible].

The reasons [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Taylor. Affectionate Remembrance to [illegible]
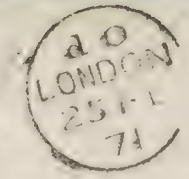
I am ever in love
Yours Jesus.

Dowry
Jan 16/71 I wish you would get

Feb 7. 71

[illegible]

[illegible]



1871
No. 4

Miss Harriet L. Brown of Steel Brown Mills Place
New York
U. S.

Bombay, Feb. 23/71

My dear sisters

When I last wrote to you I think I must have mentioned that I had been poorly. I got much worse & became quite prostrate under my treatment with the last days of January. For nearly a fortnight I kept gradually declining and vomiting. I could not attend the annual meeting of the B.N.Hist Soc[iety], and to many became aware of my illness, and the next day I had a dozen visits and many kind letters. Previously Dr Hanley had done his best & persuaded me to go with him to Mr. Kellock's offered on the sea by his temples at Matheran (a hill station) and Mr Hanley offered to go with me. But I & my friend Dr. Eccles persuaded me to go with them to his house on Malabar Hill. In the house live my friends Mr. & Mrs. Johnstone & Mr. Manson. It is a fine large house with large grounds, in one of the best situations on the island. The country surrounding is most pleasant. Dear Dr. Eccles called in Dr. Young (Med. Miss.), a friend of mine and they had daily several consultations about me. By Saturday they considered my case most critical, the disease baffled them completely; the great thing was to stop the vomiting, but all the medicine they gave me I rejected. Nothing remained on my stomach. I felt all along very reluctant to take the physic, and on Sunday, when the doctors were almost ready to pronounce my case hopeless, I told Dr. Eades plainly that I did not expect to get well, so long as he gave me physic, and begged for an armistice of 24 hours, in which I might be seen what would be the effects of my being left to myself. He and Dr. Conny agreed. They were blamed by others who said it was most dangerous to leave me to myself. But they both trusted a good deal to the power of prayer, which was now being much offered for me. Sunday evening prayer was offered for me in several churches. Still I was allowed to have my own way in all things. So I asked to be supplied with milk only, nothing else. There was abundance in the compound of gum ~~Arabic~~ supplies of fresh milk. I asked them to leave out of it the brandy and the ice. Well, at the end of 24 hours my improvement was marked and after that there was no more talk of medicine. I had only one more attack of vomiting — Monday night. From Sunday to Tuesday I took nothing but milk. I now saw I had been steadily getting well, and that Monday, the 20th, I returned to the Depository. I have remained upstairs the night up here. I am writing this in bed, but I shall probably return for good to-morrow. They will not like to lose me very long always. I can give you no idea of the amount of kindness and attention shown me. Those who came to condole, but the doctor did not think I required to see them, except a few. Dr. Eades & Dr. Johnstone thought as prayer had been so generally and well kept there should be thanksgiving. So, upwards of forty gathered here last Tuesday evening & spent an hour. It was a deeply interesting meeting. Dr. Conny spoke very kindly and frankly about their treatment of me, and said that neither of them had any misgiving after they left the matter in my hands. Mr. Hardey spoke, Mr. Roberts, missionary to C. M. S., Mr. Boyd, Irish Church Minister, Mr. Kees of the S. P. G. and four others prayed. It was evident that the delights heaven very general that I was about to pass away, and my recovery in such circumstances seemed to some a miracle. I should have thought it a greater miracle if I had recovered through the physic given me. How they could exceed the kindness of Dr. Eccles & Young. Dr. Eccles had me in a room adjoining his own, and I could not make a movement in the night but he would hear at my side. Afternoons Mr. Manson watched upon vacating his room upstairs for me, that I might have the better air. Dr. E. is a Plymouth Brother. Mrs. Johnstone is the daughter of my old friend Mr. Williamson. She had an only daughter whom I knew as a child, Polly. She went to England for her education, came out a beautiful young lady, married Mr. Manson and died after 3 months' marriage. I was a groomsman to Mr. Johnstone. This was in 1869. Mr. Williamson died in the same year, and Mrs. W. — You must give thanks to God for the great kindness from me through these and other friends. — I wrote you three weeks ago, and have not had any word from you since then. Remember me affectionately to Aunt when you write. 25th I am up the hill and am at my post again, all right. Love to children. Kindest wishes to the friends. Ever yours in love

Geo Brown

1871
A J LONDON
18 MR 71 1871 Mch 23.
Miss Harriet S. Brown
48 West Washington Place
New York
U. S.

God; to practice more complete this point. My dear Kate, there is one of the most striking & glorious lessons that I have learned, and you can only be effectually taught by God. He would have me to walk, and you must be walking, and mourning at this and that thing in your life. This communion with God will be much your loss & mourning than Romans chapter viii & verse viii. — You do not make sufficient use of Christ. He is dying & living for us all & every day and you can be [illegible] every day by living upon Him & upon His finished work, and upon Him you will never be or intermission

Ken Neals. "Jesus died that we might live." If you have no part in Christ's merits, it must be most awful thing to fall into the hands of an angry God. Your self-righteousness, it is only by faith in Christ's finished work. Sincerely & prayerfully
yours

April 22/71

1781

Jan 29 1911

My dear sister,

I am so glad you have come to live with us, and my dear children are in the seventh heaven. I do hope you will not find it too much for you.
Harriet is almost a perfect treasure, & Gertrude & Dorothy both love the baby, because they think it is theirs.
I wish you could have been present Tuesday when Dorothy & Gertrude had their tea party & invited so many persons. Gertrude was in the middle of her address, & Dorothy had stopped, one day, Dorothy said "Dear Miss Kindergarten you are not clear in the Mission Church"

I was sadly sorry to hear of Dr. Skinner's death. Not that there is any thing especially to be sorry for in a world where they are so much wanted. What about his children & who can be their minister in Carmine St. when he is he? Has anyone written about our new College, that dear boy?

Yesterday I went to Children's Church with my little boy & two more, the other day the little fellow was just 5 years of age and in being received & declared a disciple, took a text and pronounced Dan Pullen's sermon without a note, was told of a single word, though it was taken nearly 20 minutes to say it. I was rather astonished & dear boy, for I thought even on occasion must have been taken to make him learn all this long Easter sermon. But the father was told on Sunday afternoon, and then all the boy will have been in the Sabbath school, & more interesting and then all the people will be present, the preaching of the Nat. Church. I was sorry to hear will be home. He merely [illegible] for about go. I am home a day. But I could see for myself that the child, delighted on studying. I gave him an [illegible], or a little book, he merely [illegible] it but got immediately interested in the book Whenever anything comes in his way he began to Emmie it & memory. The father Mrs for I know him & only gave up Roman Catholic, in [illegible] am [illegible] for [illegible]. He said & read me and [illegible] I am [illegible] [illegible] & read

Since I wrote you, in the last the Medical Practice Bill became, on 1st of March will there be in the Legislature. There was very interesting and then all the speech will be Thursday, the petitions of the Nat. Church. I was sorry to ~~Frank~~ appears to have a good deal of hard work. I hope he will be none the worse for it. Language is a sort of knack he has. It will evidently be rather a satisfaction to him not to be eating the bread of idleness. — I had a letter from [illegible] lately. It came by San Francisco, and contained cards from his daughter & son in law. [illegible] to send me photographs of Mr.

Stimpson and others, but they have not yet come to hand. — Glad to get the [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] Boston. Would [illegible] [illegible]! — The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] a good deal [illegible]. I should like my [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible], if [illegible]
[illegible].

Miss Harriet S. Bowen
48 West Washington Place
New York
U. S.

1871 Ans 21

May 7th

My dear Harriet & Kate

Inn much pleased b y Mark 30, n clos
I
upon the previous ones. I rec'd last Saturday morning, in Paris & read the copy T. Gradison containing the Mss, back in Pa ocean yesterd b the Pr. B. y Baltimore. On looking at the copy I found that I required only numerous and bec. disappointing in getting to Middlebury. I will not have am ple "Jarrett boy" made Tuesday on the road, and shall I will the Gradison copy and send it with recent Gradison & grandaddress by book post. In this letter will go to England

May 27. If you are coming to Paris this Sept. so I shall not write to you till after. Jos. of Lorraine & many more Depend in a committee of the Legislature Pa. Mark Twain
Mrs Clemens
Hartford Conn Am sending some Cooking Stoves and Ranges

May 20. 71

My dear Harriet & Kate

I was much pleased to receive yours of March 30, so close upon the previous ones. I rec^d last Saturday morning, in time to send the copy of the Guardian containing the missing link in the series opened by the Dr. B. of Ballantine. On looking at the copy I found that very strangely one verse had been dropped in writing the meditation: "I will not leave you comfortless," so I wrote a long meditation on this verse, and [illegible] it into the Guardian copy and sent it with a recent Guardian [illegible] to your address by book post. As this letter will go to England

Harriet, for [illegible] extract from Mr. Allbury's letter. [illegible] the kind which prolongs her days, & that her prayers [illegible] It is pleasant to think of the [illegible] I remember Mr Ward [illegible]; it was at the home of my friend [illegible] I met him. — I am glad you are seeing the W. W. Ballantines. Please remember that they showed me ever so much kindness when they were here. He is a capital fellow and would have made a most useful missionary, but his wife's heart did not appear to be here, perhaps because her health was not good. — She sings beautifully, has rather an exquisite contralto voice. I wish you would ask her to sing some of the things I used to hear her sing. — I understand his voice failed and he is thus laid aside from the ministry & has secular occupation. Please give him my love [illegible]. Love to Frank when you write. His last letter to me was written in 1848. [illegible]

Yours [illegible]

Bombay May 20/71

Kindly post the enclosed for Mr Abbott.

May 27. It was not convenient to send this last Saty, so I have kept it till to-day. All well. Two afternoons of every week I spend in a committee for the revision of the Marathi Bible. What a fearful doom has come upon Paris. Think of the Place Vendome in which we used to look down from ye Rue Castiglione, and the carnage now witnessed there!

by Brindisi, you will probably receive the letter in connection with the parcel of Sundries.

Yes I am the writer of "Ethel's Secret" I thought you knew I was the author of it, but not the name (as by a signature) which I have never acknowledged yet, - this you may for a year yet, - perhaps longer. You are quite welcome to use any portion of it

You speak of sending money by post. Have you not the money order system in America? The smallest amount can be sent in this way, i.e. 2nd.

I send you £. 300 for which I know no need, but may help you through the summer, The Lord comfort you in all things.

My dear sister, we see the need of every day & hour of Christ's love and it. The love is in Christ, and if Christ come into our hearts and make us heart & heart. Our dear hungry natures & he melted down again and come into the mould of Christ's Will in which we are one in Him in Christ. Love alone gives value to life, and all in us that is impure & low, must be done away at the cross of Christ. Shall we not come to the cross by prayer & realize there our Lord Jesus? Put on the spotless nature in our natures? Why not? The past time may appear as to have been in our life, a mere dream what Paul calls the Carnal nature. It is a bad nature. The sooner we get rid of it the better.

I finish it 4 o'clock since I mentioned you I sent you £ March 12. Many thanks, dear Names for [illegible] from Mr. Abbott May the Lord abundantly bless Sunday, that his people may be with us. It is [illegible] to thank [illegible] two missionaries — Fernando Wood & Noah; I am at the home of my friend Mr Gordon I met him. — I am glad you me ening Mr & Mrs Ballantines. Please remember that they showed me civility in London when they visi here. He is a capital fellow and married him made a most joyful missionary, but the wife & Lord did not appear to bless perhaps because he dealt in rum and gold. — He sings beautifully has a flute an exquisite contralto voice. I wish you could hear him sing. He sings I used to dear Lucy. — I enclose another piece of paper and he is then laid aside from the ministry & has received reception. Please give them my love & best wishes. Love to Frank when you write. His last letter to me was written in 1848. Wm Jones

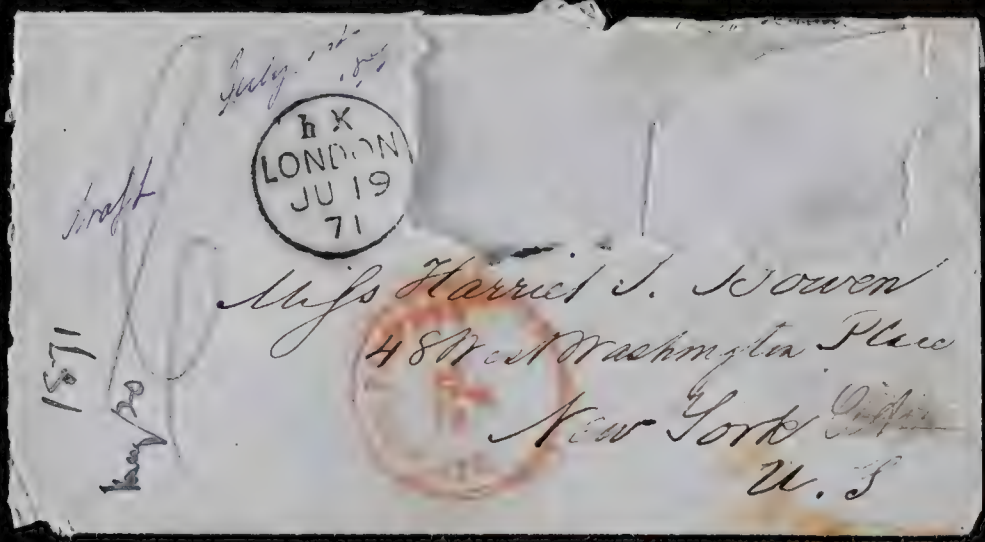
Geo Gibson

Dorking May 20/51

Kindly read the enclosed for Mr Abbott.



h X
LONDON
JU 19 71
Miss Harriet S. Norton
488 West Washington Place
New York City
U. S draft 1871

My dear Jessie,

is becoming quite a great honour.

I may have given him a wrong impression of my dear friend, Mr. Hall. He did love Jesus & gave Him the best he had to give. He was very happy on this last day. When he had a few moments alone with his wife & children. On the last morning, a few hours after I had left him, he called his wife & talked to her a long time. He could, on the previous day, trust Jesus in the valley. Finally, he said, Jesus is come, you can leave me. All gone. Here, Jesus, Jesus, Jesus said he beckoned with the hand motioning him to come near. His countenance did not change. Then, one of the last words he said was "Glory". After this he said no more, but continued in deep unconsciousness till his death a few hours later.

Mr. Harding brought with him from Canada a Cabinet Organ (like the Harmonium, but larger in some respects). Well lately another one was sent from London. One Saturday evening, I came in and found my way to my room, & lighted my candle, but found a ladder in a place where it was and then I found out, & remembered that Mr. Hall had told me. I had lighted the candle at the fire, but had left the key from the door & had walked right behind. Opening it I went to the door & standing saying, Lord Jesus I give up my whole heart. I consciously experienced, I think, a little heavenly peace in my inner being. I could & do, but cannot say much. I do not give much time to music, & different. My first instrument I received was a violin, given by the C. M. S. missionary in Sialkot, after I left Sialkot I am not accustomed to play on it. I had my first Christmas, & then I.

Dec. 12. I do not come in contact with, & have not had any. Some time ago I received a letter from friend Butler, lately. I wanted him to publish my medical thesis, XIII–XVII, but he wrote me word that he could not. I sent it to Dr. Schumacher, & he wrote me that he was as much surprised as he could be, that I had begun the study of medicine. I am very much interested in it, & am getting on very nicely.

as requested by Kate, and hope it reached you safely. I wrote you May 27 enclosing an order for Rs. 300.

[illegible] [illegible], [illegible] [illegible] interested in some [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of May [illegible] 1874, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of days [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] them for me. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] day. — [illegible] being [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible], [illegible], [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], if [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], and [illegible]. — Pardon my [illegible]. —

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of mind, that [illegible] not allow [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Imagination displayed many sad tricks with us all(?) —

The Witness comes by [illegible] by San Francisco, and [illegible] [illegible] occasionally [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Somnambulist. The Cal[illegible] [illegible] ~~[illegible]~~ Bromley [illegible] [illegible]. I do not care [illegible] about the Observer now that I get the Advance, and you may stop it when you like, or send it when likely [illegible] of special interest. I think you w^d like the Advance better. Was it [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] Patton that [illegible] the latter? [illegible] of our Dr. Patton? There are articles in

[left margin:] the papers on the left of [illegible] [illegible] that are [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] what you [illegible]

LONDON
SP
71
Miss Harriet S. Bowen
48 East Washington Place
New York
U. S.

[redacted]

Miss Hannah J. Dixon 118 Bedford Washington Place
New York U.S.

1871

Jalna, Nizam Dominions
16th Dec 1876.

To
The Misses Bowen

Dear Sisters in the Lord,

I have been writing to several dear friends in New York, and I don't see any reason why I should not drop a few lines to you. Three years ago I was in your wonderful country, travelling from New York to Chicago, thence to the Falls of Niagara, Hamilton, Toronto, Lucknow, Montreal, Amherst, London, New Haven, and thence to New York. You'll see what an extent of country I was enabled to go over. It was a most enjoyable trip and

I have brought with me most pleasing reminiscences which will remain with me to my latest breath. What eventful changes have taken place even within this short period that has rolled away both in your own country and the old world.

I am thankful to say that I am still permitted to work in this dark corner of our extensive country, and in a great measure with success and pleasure. Since my return I have been permitted to introduce into the Christian (church) by baptism nearly a hundred persons of various classes. We look upon this as good encouragement from our Father in heaven. But your dear brother's encouragement in Bombay during the last few years has been beyond his expectations. As I told you when in New York he and I were privileged to declare the glad tidings of salvation in Bombay for many years, the visible fruit of his or my ministrations was very little indeed, but it is otherwise now. I believe of late the pleasure of the Lord has (been) prospering in his hands.

Though I am away from him this side, nearly five hundred miles, and at Indapur, our oldest Rural Mission, some two hundred miles, yet while going backwards and forwards, I take a run to Bombay have a short season of prayer with him and see a few friends and then return to my stations either Jalna or Indapur. In this way I think I see him once or twice every quarter, and I assure you, return from his place greatly refreshed and strengthened. It is a pity that in these days I cannot have his company so often as I used to have when residing in Bombay. But by means of the Guardian I shall hold Christian intercourse with him every week as you must be doing in New York.

I hope you have both been quite well ever since I saw you last. Thank God I haven't had a days sickness since my return in 1874 to my fathers. Lord & Aunt I have trying to serve the Lord very much in the same way as when I was in your country, that is I have some engagement or other in connexion with my mission work from morning to evening. I think this is the best way to keep one's self in the love of God. My highest ambition is to become wise to win souls to the Lord Jesus. It appeares to me that this is highest wisdom. How glad I would be to become as wise as Moody and Sankey seem to be in this respect. How one envies them when he hears of their marvellous successes wherever they go. How different is the character of revivals that have taken place from those in Britain and Ireland and now in their own country from what (However the Lord will raise up Moodys and Sankeys even in this unhappy land. For we must be reading with pain of oppositions and obstacles that we meet with in our work. It is astonishing how men even in these days set up themselves against the Lord and against His Anointed.

I don't know whether you ever heard me preach in your large churches I used to plead on behalf of our New Settlement called Bethel. Well, I have been busy in laying it out ever since my return, and I think it is going to be a success. We have already over one hundred and sixty persons residing at Bethel. We have a number of buildings for schools and workers to alight in. Our New Church to be called Zion from its conspicuous and elevated position has nearly come to roofing, and within six months or so it will be completed. It is seen from a hundred villages on all sides from our place. We have been planting nearly two hundred mango trees considered in this country as very important both for the shade it gives and for its fruit. But what I am most anxious for is to plant trees of righteousness who will be for the praise and glory of God. I often look forward to the period when idolatry and superstition will be destroyed, and when the kingdom of the Lord will come amongst us with power. For we rejoice to know that things are tending to that direction, and sooner or later the cry will be heard "the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdom of our God and of His Christ." People seem to be very sceptical with regard to the ful-

ment of these great and glorious promises; and ere idolatry has been destroyed. As I tell my European friends who are doubtful with regard to the ultimate triumphs of the gospel that I did not see a vestige of Brahminical idolatry as I travelled from John Groat's House to my native land, and what has taken place in Great Britain and Ireland, and in Europe, will assuredly take place in India.

My dear wife and children are at Simla Fort near Bombay or else they would have joined me in kind regards to you both. See that you remember us in your prayers now and then. From dear brother [illegible] does so. Yours in [illegible] in Norwegian Christian

Miss L. Bowen,

St. Luke's

New York

Newport

1876

Col. R. R. Kinkaid

My dear Harriet,

I cannot write to you by this Mail; but I regret that I shall not be able to write you at length. I have received long letters from you and Kate, for which I cannot sufficiently thank you. I know not whether your previous letter with some much prized lines from Ma, has been answered by me or not. I think I cannot have been. I think again and conclude that I have not been. Probably there is some truth in Dr. Clark's remark which was repeated to you, that your mind is in a somewhat morbid state. It is true, I must of us. You mother does I find in Ma, that after the Lord has given you for so many years, with so much iteration, & in so many ways, such clear principal confirmation, all the obstruction necessary in order that you may know Christ as your Righteousness, sanctification & redemption, you should be sitting with a sense of desolation at the feet of this one Christ as your Saviour. "When for the time you should be a teacher, you have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God." In some degree or measure I had much pleasure in reading your account of what you can and will not leave and desert your God-directed field. But now you have a good excuse for such labors; you may gently withdraw; the Lord Christ does not constrain you to engage lovingly in this work. You speak disparagingly of the piety of the Fulton Prayer-Meeting;

but you should not; for this is just the piety that you want; the piety to labor cheerfully & self-forgetfully for the salvation of sinners. You want to be employed & known in a redemptive work. You are willing to labor for Christ, but only on condition that the labor be congenial, facile & your nature, accordant with your tastes. & just as you not wanting in self-denial?
& this not a marked predominance of self even in your religious life? Have you not lost sight of the homely working character of the religion of Christ? One religion may easily be lost in religious exercise. To have true communion with Christ, we must go with him not merely & those where we can talk beautifully of their experience, but & those whose knowledge is elemental, whose love simple.
Let me say Christ has a local Church, as the Church of a spiritual estate, but the Christ of the whole Christian people. I call to mind the timely occasion you conceive in the early part of your Christian course, for certain female prayer meetings at Mrs. Carson's. I cannot doubt that Christ loved & blessed there. You did not. You would have been happy if you could have got the mastery over that intense selfness, by continuing in the meeting; but no, you hastened gently & withdrew. Well, if you there have been the mind of the Lord concerning you. You ought by this time to have carefully completed & dealt with your case aright, and to make known the fulness of Christ; for you then gently heading in the way of the new institute.
You have a thousand times over, with your all the truth that you need, in order & the liberty in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. & just as those & you were delivering the Lord that has done so great things for you, by speaking as things you knew not when & found him. You shall find healing for your own wounds by binding gently balm & find healing for the wounds of others. & when the hospital might then be healed with the medicine, consumed upon gently. Upon the Fulton Prayer Meeting & is the most glorious manifestation that Christ has made of himself in modern times. The stream of divine grace flowing through these centuries through many conduits, has at last & reached Fulton: and the work is eminently in new full, precious blessings known previously even in Britain. It is marvellous with what persistency the Saviour answers the prayer offered up at the N. Y. daily meetings. The revival of a single month till, Heaven proved out in many thousands, far and near, on sea and land, in answer to the prayers of the Christians. What would you say if I should tell you that should I ever return to me Island in New York about noon, I would be lucky to visit the Fulton N. Meeting before I came to you. Not that I love you less, but that the glorious Christ, manifest in the body, all places. Christians & Americans, generally, are very dead with regard to the meaning of this great work. In all they know. I may be the wise say my,

for the last time, The Bridegroom cometh.

So this is the anniversary I make for you long kind letter of May 21st and June 28! And this the anniversary ment I give for your opening and administering under.
Well never mind! We will often need.

I trust you bright anticipations of enjoyment in the country will be realized. The sweet, heavy entertainment & the entertaining is to say more of it to be good. This you know and I will not upon. I do not know what it is to need relief and recreation; but this is simply because my burdens are so kindly laid upon me.

I am very much obliged & glad for the long & kind my letter. She has told me things that I wanted to know.
I hope soon to visit & see.

Wed. I saw last evening at the home of Mr. Stearns) an American papers, and in it a paragraph to the effect that a barque Adela or more properly Sultana, Capt Power, had left New York Jan 26th, proceeded to Africa, taken there some 2000 negroes to Cuba, and there been burned. It is not an uncommon thing for the Captain of a slaver to set fire to her and abandon her, when he has landed his cargo, and there is some hope of reward in the neighbourhood. I am not aware that this was the case for I letter very much with the information you gave me of his being in New York at the beginning of the year.

The grand events that have exhibited during the last three years, in the currency of just such character. It may in later times appear to have been singled out above others to receive the most most strikingly attest God's gracious purpose. Receive the most yesterday. — Some of the men of said barque landed at Key West, and made this report. Brought them to suppose.
I take the liberty of troubling you with some enclosures, hoping they will not add any thing to the postage: viz: a letter for Mrs Baker from her sister, and one for Mr. Miller, and another for Mr King. You must address this last, before the first, and put Mr. Merrin to send Mr. Miller's.
I regret much that Mrs. Lee left Baltimore so ill, and that the Lord kindly enable her to prosecute the work, he forgives delight in. My kind regards to the family of Rev Brown, Rev Darlington and all other relations. Wishing about Revd Mr Waterman from a Dayst — also to all friends
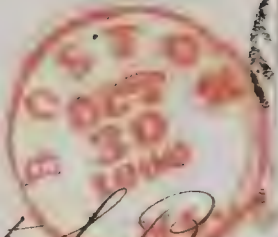
Ry. Sept 11/60

1860

Aug 11.



Miss Harriet S. Bowen

118 W. 12th St.

New York,

~~Via Southampton~~

Brooklyn, May 18, 1868

My dear Harriet & Kate,

Many thanks for your kind invitation. I am content to be good deputy for my absent lazy aunt.
I am sorry not to be able to oblige you that I dare trust your sweet self, but I dare be, my Cherie dear, with many kind reply from him. Am I sanguine?
I, certainly sanguine that Kate should have the pleasure of seeing him here a few days hence. I perceive by him. — My friend Capt. Hancock left Calcutta for America. I think I must have given mentioned this to either person to [illegible] m. He has been in command of one of Steam Natural Co.'s Steamers between this and Suez, and goes home to see his wife & family in Saco, Maine. I hope he will consent to go on. I gave him a letter to you. My friends Mr. & Mrs. Stearns went in the Steamer. To whom I gave a letter to you, and I hope you may make his acquaintance. I have spent many pleasant evenings at her house, speaking of the teachings of the Bible. She takes something for Kate, a doll, boys like those. Will you give any. They are not a gift from me. I asked Dr. Jeffries to get them, but he did not, & I, told me [illegible] them himself. So they are to be sent to you from him. It will please him I dare say, if you send a few lines addressed to him, not to my letter, but to Depository Rooms. —

I commend Emma for the pleasure mingled, the cost of Mrs. Hair. I dare not think I would have been more selfish. The rose, Dear, is a most appropriate memory, where meets them.

I am amazed at the notice of my work in the Inquirer. The meaning is [illegible] upon the surface. But I am thinking how to [illegible] upon the plan.

Yes the Revised Version of Edinburgh was formerly in Smart, and Lord Translations of Proverbs to the Boy Guardian. I have my highest opinion of his qualifications, at least not to be as one person has.

It was a great error I made Mr. Sallie asking him to send me a supply of the Meditations, but they have now come

I must by no means forget my dear Mrs. J. but they will make their appearance as soon as possible. The Indian children is exhausted.

Mr. Munger says he loves Br. Mr. & Mrs. Gunning & Miss Kate especially. He would have been glad to have come along with them.

I had a visit the other day from Capt. Pickering, commg Ship Sagamore. He came on board the Gardner when I came on in 1847. He was then a young man but is now grown old. They do not seem to have grown any. He & Capt. Stimpson's wives, Mrs. J. & Mrs. Allen were related & Capt. Pickering being. Perhaps they may yet be. It seems as though all the members of the Allen family will be devoted christians. I am much interested in all the zealous Francis in this world's goods.

Natchitoches Parish Louisiana
January 1st 1865

Rev. Dr. Bedford
Dear Brother in Christ

I have received your letter of the 14th ult. with pleasure & thankfulness to God for the interest you manifest for me, and with pleasure will endeavor to answer it. I fully know what it is, a specimen of Kalydonia.

I am with you in your grand work, praying continually for the success of the Bible cause, in which I feel obliged my Christian character is involved. Dr. Bedford, the leader in this work in the Bible, is a Secretary of the American Bible Society. His name is expressive. His faith in my friend Gen. Bedford and all his relations as Christian people, meeting his aberrations as I do. The educated Nations drink in with delight these assaults upon the Bible, and arm themselves with Arguments against it, thus furnished. The mass of his fellows all European infidelity has been born with the hearts of the people.

I had a letter today from General Field the commander one of the Brigades in the march to Maryland. He speaks very admiringly of the Providence of God shown in the recovery of his arm. He is a man of great praying nature and great faithfulness. When do you see such piety in military men. It is generally unpretending. This is a dear brother whom I have known since I came to the country.

I agree with you dear Harriet in the longing for Christ's coming. I have been expecting the event upon the coming of the Son of Man, for a great many years, and shall expect it to the end. I cannot say that it may differ from you in this respect. But I know my Redeemer lives, and must stand in the latter day. Whatever I do, speak and write is with reference to his [illegible] day, which is the explanation of the strangeness that seems visible to me.

Yes, I have heard of Mr. Taylor and his being baptized by immersion, and joining Christ's church in 1866. His intellectual improvement and I shall be glad to hear how they are getting on.

I am glad Mr. Porter has agreed to leave the Mercer St. Church. I hope they will not move the Church up town.

Is John Atterbury not married again? Is he? Is William? Mrs. Wallace settled? Is Lewis Wallace? Mrs. Wallace wedded to his wife?

Richard Brown must be pretty old to be thinking of building. I am sorry they are going away. You never say any thing about them.

A Mr. & Mrs. Roby are here. He is a partner of Greenland N. Hampshire, and came out with Capt. Pickering, his relation, for his health. He goes back with the ship. I am heartily rejoiced by meeting him. Happy the country when such ministers are numerous. —

I think the English establishment is doomed. It is only a question of time. —

I wish to hear from Mr. Hastings before this, perhaps. He may from Alexandria have got over with his 4 children happily.

You wish to hear from Dr Franklin, writes of Brother Colonies Sons People are disposed to make a great man of him. I spent an evening with him. He has a very modest demeanour, which is the Nation, this country, is not always exmity. He has gone back from the hustle, I think, thought it a warm enemy to Americans

Much love, dear sister. Write to me from me another and a long body. I am affectionately Your Brother

INDIANA
9½ a
Miss Harriet S. Strong
48 West Washington Place
New York
U. S. via Southampton 1848
May 8th

Bombay Sep 16. 57

Dear Mother and dear Lizzie

To-morrow is mail day, and two months have elapsed since I wrote to you, and you are pleased to hear from me even when I have nothing to say, and not willing that I should be silent though you know I have a gift for taciturnity, and therefore I will write though it is ten o'clock and I must finish my letter to night. Many thanks for your excellent and highly prized letter written by Harriet in her representative capacity dated in May last. Many thanks to my God who is pleased to employ Atlantic Mediterranean and Indian breezes, English Continental, and Egyptian human conveyancers with locomotives and steamers (which foolish man imagines the product of his own foolish brain, not considering that they are full of mysteries unsolved by him, and which engines were undoubtedly created by the Almighty in the beginning and scattered in portions in the very pathway of man who could only go stumbling over them for 6000 years, when the pressure of God's providence at length constrained him to find them marvellous mechanisms and put the parts together, when what must imbecile and arrogant man do but cry Eureka, I have found it, how ingenious is my genius, behold my wondrous works, I have succeeded by my genius in making things that even God himself must be astonished at, whereas these are but the hidings of God's power, and these railways but parts of his ways) to employ I say a chain of agencies human & celic providential reaching through 147 degrees of longitude, and traversing 32½ degrees of latitude, to convey to me thoughts and affections from a couple of sisters and a mother, and a handful of friends. And not satisfied with this, he is making some of his conceited and blind artisans run with wires across the European continent to tie the Mediterranean Sea and English channel together that my voice may reach you on the quicker. Is he gone on his throne and made all creation subject to us, would he be any the better? Far from it. Oh Love the Lord ye his saints, for there is no want to them that fear him.

These flowers on my table were given me by Mrs. Leith, at whose home I generally am on Thursday evening. He will not come with us that we might have Eliza - was the passage South upon. Here was a poor lady there whose husband died the other day, after 6 mos' marriage, and she goes home alone to-morrow in the steamer. I have been much of late with an American Captain (Lockwood of the White Squall) who has been lying ill here for 3 mos, and who is now dying. I go to see him some three times a week (tho' he is living 5½ miles from my house) for there is no one else I think among his visitors to speak to him of Christ, and he enjoys my visits much, and they really seem to have been of benefit to him. Indeed I could hardly wish for better evidence than he gives of having received the kingdom of heaven as a little child. He fell overboard in the harbor at night, and it is most marvellous that he has lived till now. I wrote to his wife to-day (she lives in Philadelphia) to tell her what I knew. My heart has much yearned over this poor man and I have observed with great delight the patience resignation docility, humility, contrition and faith in only the merits of Christ, that have appeared. Latterly his mind has wandered, but even in his wanderings his religious views are all correct, judging from his expressions. To-morrow I expect to sit with him as he is alone; he is in the house of Mr. Cooper a merchant who shows him the utmost kindness, and who does not leave him except when I come to take his place.

Perhaps you have already heard of the death of Mrs. Wood. Her career has been a short one and hardly a happy one. She has had poor health ever since her arrival here. Her influence on Mr. Wood was very marked in refining his manners & thoughts. I have hardly ever seen a greater change of this sort. I understand that when at Mahabaleshwar last spring, she looked forward to the prospect of living in the new and commodious house which Mr. Wood has built in Satara, with satisfaction. From the moment they entered it, troubles thickened upon them, - first the sickness of the two children, then her own terminating in the birth of another infant, its death and her own. Brother Wood has felt the stroke very much. Possibly he may go home some day with his children. A new missionary, Mr. Bissell has arrived with his wife from Boston. They are destined to the Ahmednuggur mission. I am greatly pleased with them. The cases are now about over, and I wait for the voice of the beloved saying Arise. Mrs Cassidy still lives with me. We have a meeting at our little house, of the neighbors, twice a week, and quite a company of sinners and publicans they are. Bro King's attempted letter do me little good. Who is Miss Harriet Bissell to marry? Is it Minor after all? I am much obliged to you for the extracts from Banks's letters. It is well to hear from home. The Guardian flourishes, and I hope may accomplish something for the cause of truth here. The population mentioned to you of the city of Bombay strictly. Bombay occupies an island of about the size of New York State and not very dissimilar in shape. I will send a picture of it perhaps some day, and I have some notion of sending you the Guardian. I am to blame for not supplying you with more information concerning the country. They are constructing a railroad from Bombay over the adjacent island of Salsette to the continent.—

I send but a few lines, must love however. Warm remembrances to all friends. Yours ever

J. Borrow.

Awake thou that sleepest!

Paper E

No. 1

My dear Nate

I, I don't know much to write about & yet I will write you a few lines. I am sorry my letters have been so few & poor, but I have had so much hard thinking to do that I could not write & in fact I am thinking now, and will do so, for a few years, on a spiritual power, I am up at 5 about 5 a.m. & 11 p.m. I think God that I received more information & inspiration by prayer & thought, & Taylor's Bible is consolidated and read one. We were delighted with Bishop Andrews.
A man of prayer, and spirit and at the same time a natural & manly power.
Dr. Arthur is one of the most effective preachers I ever heard. A man of culture refinement, of a metaphysical spirit,

my eloquent, to take an audience captive & move and maintain his will & them & his end. Many angels & saints under the preaching.

I hope the Greenleaves come all right now. We have no longer any news. We received it if & Portland Christmas gift & got home well. Dear Lucy expected [illegible] copies. Can & be forwarded, Emily to the address
let us know, and we will send them direct to the parties. You were right in taking Rs. 9½ from Miss. Janvier for one year's subscription, and in keeping it for [illegible] perhaps.

I am so glad that the arrangement has been made for Elizabeth Hooker.

I am grieved to hear of Hannah's illness. The gout is a very distressing disease, and I should think it suffering so much. May [illegible] mercy be sanctified to her & Lord.

In passing [illegible] Mr. Hodgson's [illegible]
Mr. Hodgson has just received a [illegible]
Mr. Hodgson has [illegible] gotten into the [illegible] of the Mahratta Brahmin. He was born [illegible] an Englishman & brought up [illegible]. He [illegible] to [illegible] person [illegible] and said [illegible] lived in [illegible] in 1848 and in [illegible] Religion, [illegible] in [illegible] opposed to the Bible, [illegible] [illegible] came and [illegible] a personal [illegible] to [illegible] Christ [illegible] all [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
is my life and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] me [illegible]. He [illegible] [illegible] Father [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
die in the triumphs of [illegible] [illegible].

March 1857

My dear Harriet

I have the pleasure to acknowledge your kind letter of Dec. 3, that of the same, and that of the 31st Dec, and return you both my best thanks for your affectionate, punctuality. Y. I. If you knew what I was going to inform you, — or might have I begged my attention, — and [illegible] only been induced to write by the necessity, real or supposed, of [illegible] — a report shall pay — a criticism. I may perhaps, tell in the army, and I may [illegible] be the [illegible] necessity for me to join in public any measures, but what remarks of mine at that time, both [illegible] you read and which I have never, entitled Sketches for Knight & Discussion by a Mr. Lobell, [illegible] for upon my return this book you may contain extracts from Emerson, Martineau and Carlyle; and you note in a rather commendatory way; then notes this forth to (I am ~~doing~~ striving to do good. — I do not know you read such books as you speak of I believe you can do it with far less harm than others.

But if I were to read them without some knowing the reading of [illegible] and their some weak brother may [illegible] thy dear Harriet there is something [illegible] children need [illegible] with the intel-
-mind to be [illegible] the very -lectual, the accommodation [illegible] some power of appreciating any impulse in your with devoting means poetic ideas — Mind nothing of things. — Even in religion there is danger of your suffering from this tendency. You may be much taken up with that [illegible], Fenelon or of [illegible] when some one much better Christian than I would of our mind to be given who is incomparably nearer to Christ, being might seem to you, is perhaps [illegible] thought of [illegible] became common place. Let to Lord that it seems to me dealt with you in a way that I am peculiarly designed to benefit you on account of this passion for the amusement. —

I hope [redacted] you will be [redacted] formerly [redacted] I am expected to leave [redacted] by an [redacted] next Monday. —

I do [redacted] leaving that Kate [redacted] about [redacted] that I came. I shall be delighted to get it, and I hope she will write a delightful letter for it. I am reading with great delight Letters [redacted] called Hope in Chiefs, or Memoirs of Mrs. Mary Winslow. I think that she must be interesting in this. Mrs. W. was in New York from 1815 to 1830 & she was a most earnest godly and simple Christian. — I owe to Mrs. Thome by the last Mail.

It seems to me that it will be a most desirable arrangement, if the Lord effectually, for you to live with Richard & Jemima. I shall be very glad to hear from Mr. & Mrs. All my all about Lem and his family. —

In the [redacted] letter of my missionary [redacted] eminent to [redacted] the Franklin [redacted] imminent as the [redacted] of the Captain's [redacted] I am commissioned to [redacted] Lem from a mob. — to [redacted] Lem [redacted] not at Salem [redacted] to the Augusta. — to [redacted] not permission to go home. He [redacted] am in 1832. The other news must keep for the Queen.

Kate mistakes when she says "I'm speak for your letter having been delayed apparently on account of postage Note. I merely mentioned the fact that a letter sent to the room [redacted] came along with a letter sent by yourself a fortnight later, and cost more. But do as you thinkbest. Rates, perhaps, are cheaper that you could name them with account. For can send by Marseilles, now for a slight advance on the Southampton rates.

Mr. Jones is to, for a gentleman in Bengal, Heath is to be married in Bombay night & is to marry Miss. They are spending the Xmas with their daughter Smith Capt. Nash from England was Madras. Mr. Howell and his daughter is in England

My dear Peter,

I rec'd by last Mail a letter from Mr. David Douglas, Edinburgh, Publisher, saying that the Daily Mail Statement have at last cleared the cost of publication, and sending me an order for £25. He says "I will give me pleasure if I can still be of use to you & hope at the same time you will, but you cannot but with depend upon the sale." As I have promised you the profits of my books, I enclose & forward the draft to you & do so with the greatest pleasure.

I saw from the other day telling me that Bond had left. Has he or not a rather perilous voyage under the circumstances I hope the Lord Lieutenant will not proceed.

Mr. & Mrs. Dixon have left for Ambala & from there Mr. Bax-Ironside writes, and I fear we shall not have them again in India. We never do take kindly to this country.

Mr. Douglas says usually the Amers & Christ that he will not have a Tent to sleep & Clothes prevent & he guarantee, as it has so many claims to it. We have

Good Morn

Miss Catharine Boren Presbyterian Mission Rooms
23 Centre St.
New York U. S. America

MAR
81 FD
81
SEA
POST OFFICE
F.
24 FEB

pleasures of this world, but are possessed of something that satisfies us independently of what this world can give. Men are carnal, and as carnal, God addresses them. He would give them sensible proofs of the Christian religion. The eloquence and logic of an angel would fail to arrest them, for the very reason that he is an angel; but let a servant of God give full proof of deadness to the world, that world to which they are so enslaved, and their attention is arrested. They are amazing by under the power of their appetites and lusts, and the sight of a man having all these in perfect subjection must startle them. But the aim and victory shall never be known to them, till its trophies are exhibited to their senses, through the medium of the life. The high aims of the Christian can only be known to them, by a demonstration parallel to their senses. So long as there is the least supposable foundation for skepticism, they will be skeptical about those high aims, and will refuse to believe the minister of Christ indifferent to comforts and luxuries, and the gratifications of sense, and reputation and distinction, until they see him throwing them behind his back, and signifying by his treatment of them the disesteem in which he holds them. Until that moment though the spirit be really in his heart; though he be truly seeking the glory of God and the good of men; though his affections be truly alienated from the objects of sense, yet the world will not believe in his transformation, or impute to him any principles superior to those that govern themselves. And if it should so happen that the very things they ask after, which they feed their imaginations upon when alone, dream about at night, converse about among themselves, labor year after year, by fair means or foul to obtain, if these very things should happen to be found in the Missionary's Life, will they not be fatal to the production of that evidence which the Gospel is aiming to produce? Let a man with one hand offer the Gospel to a crowd of heathen and at the same time be handling a purse of gold in the other; will they give much heed to his message? No, he must put the gold out of sight, if he would have them listen to his words. There is a fascination about the gold which binds up all their senses, and baffles all attempts to secure their attention to the Gospel. Money is their God; they worship it and the things it procures. If, when they come to see us, they find their gods with us; viz, money, authority, luxury, distinction, they will know us because their gods are with us, and will envy us.

But their respect will not be of a kind favorable to religious influences; nor will they be ready to discover the evidences, that we are transformed from our original natures, or that Omnipotence dwells in the bosom of the Christian church. It is not sufficient that we do not idolize the things they idolize; we must openly and unequivocally disown those things. It is not enough that we can use those things without being contaminated by them; we are to reject them because they contaminate others, and because others will not reject them, while we retain them. Men are carnal, and the evidences which spiritual, persons can detect, are hid from them. Therefore, the style of life which Christ enjoins upon us, is that which will tend to flash upon their very senses, the evidence that we are born of God, and are looking to things unseen and eternal. This species of proof should come first, in itself insufficient, but indispensable as a preliminary. When they have received this they will be ready to inquire for others; but till then they will be indifferent to others. The glory of the Christian religion, is not only in the purity of its laws, but in the sanctions of that law; not only in the beauty of its morality, but in its power to engrave that morality in the hearts of its believers. There is much excellent morality to be found in some of the pagan books of the Hindoos, but then their religion is utterly impotent to enforce the observation of that morality. There is but one religion that can really transform, and Christ would have the transformation it effects exhibited to the eyes of man. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify" not you, "but your Father which is in heaven." It is not enough that God is the witness of our renewed nature, that the spiritual in heaven and earth behold it, but an ungodly, carnal world, must see it. The apostles would say: "We are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels and to men."

The style of life which is adapted to give proof in favor of Christianity, is also adapted to exhibit it, and make beholders acquainted with the great characteristics of the gospel. 1st 2 Thess

3. S. Paul say. "We wrought with labor and travail, night and day, not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an example unto you to follow us." Paul was not necessitated to support himself by his own hands there, and seeing that he was a solitary representative of Christ, and depositary of Christian truth, in the midst of that heathen city, seeing that his time as a minister of the gospel was of unspeakable, incomparable value; it is a thing to be wondered at, that he did not avail himself of the means of subsistence furnished him by the Providence of God. It would seem that if there ever was a minister of the gospel called upon by his position to let work alone, and give himself exclusively to the gospel, it was Paul in Thessalonica. Insomuch he could so hopefully succeed in his time how much importance must he have attached to the thing in view, viz; the exhibition of a model life. I do not cite this in favor of the notion that ministers should support themselves by their own hands, but as showing in what great account he held the outward exhibition of those principals which Christ had implanted in him. Though filled with the Holy Ghost, he left off preaching and went to work; and what for? Why, he aimed at no other thing in working than in preaching. It was, as it were, the interpreter of his oral preaching; without which the latter would not have been understood by the people. And we may preach the gospel, for hundreds of years in India by word of mouth, and by printed page but until it be incorporated in our lives and that too in a way adapted to the dull apprehensions and sensuous natures of the Hindoos, they will not understand it.

The power of the human mind to remain ignorant of divine truth under the most vigorous and long continued effort to enlighten it is one of the mysteries of human depravity, one which will continue to meet us and dishearten us till we adopt the apostolic way of blending the language and the life. Whether we will it or not, our manner of life is the great interpreter of the gospel, to the people we dwell among. They hear us say: "Whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple," and to know the meaning of these words, they look to our life. If its true interpretation is not found in these, then its true interpretation will never reach them. If they see, then, instead of a renouncing of the things they covet, an abundance of them, the words have at once lost all their life and power. Sometimes, speaking by the Holy Ghost, Paul enjoins upon us to follow him, as he followed Christ. To Timothy he says, "Be thou an example of the believers" To Titus; "In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works" The Missionary must be a pattern man, and render his life an irresistible sermon on the words, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world."

These considerations lead inevitably to the conclusion, that Christ would have us exhibit in our mode of living, to those we preach to, and in a manner comprehensible to them, the principles of the gospel which are susceptible of being so embodied. And here one remarkable feature in the position of a missionary to the heathen, presents itself to our notice. He may go so far in self denial as to exhibit this grace to the circle in which he was brought up. He may go farther, even so far as to exhibit it to the ~~Christian~~ at home generally. He may go farther, even so far as to exhibit it to his brother missionaries. Yet after all this he has not begun to exhibit it to the heathen. This is owing to the great poverty, plainness of living, and absence of comfort of the heathen compared with Christian nations. That style of living which would be decidedly moderate at home, is princely in the eyes of the natives of India. Six hundred pounds or two hundred pounds a year, makes a man a nobleman in the estimation of the mass of these natives, and they are utterly without a frame to discern in the life of such a one, the exhibition of self denial. There exists between the Sahelbloke and the natives a vast interval, and the former are virtually, in respect to the position they occupy the nobility of the land. To put them the people must look up In their hands are the treasures of the land, at their disposal the offices, and in their favour, reputation, and those whose aspirations are for these things, look to them. They occupy one level and the people another. Now, if the Missionary of the Gospel be identified with them, he will be clothed with a certain external superiority, altogether on the way of his exciting such an influence as flowed from the life of Paul and his fellow laborers. When the Missionary Sahib goes into the Bazaar to make known the Gospel, he will be as one standing on a pedestal. The people will look upon him as one who is above him in the worldly scale; and while they occupy positions so unequal they will remain ignorant of the true principles of the Gospel. It may be, that, in order to reach a position which seems to them elevated, the missionary has really descended much; it may be that in leaving his native land, and the bosom of his loved Church, to take up his abode among the heathen, he has made a sacrifice greater than they can conceive of, but it is not a sacrifice palpable to their apprehensions; and they will simply view him as occupying a position which they would love to occupy. He must destroy that pedestal from under him; if he would embody to their eyes the doctrine which Christ has made so prominent; "Deny thyself and take up thy cross and follow me." He who has renounced his native land he must renounce his Sabbath. In the providence of God, there is given them this opportunity of showing to the heathen the all sufficiency of Christ, and the indifference felt by Christians for those things which constitute the elysium of the soul. Those steps in his course of self renunciation, which precede his arrival among the heathen are hid from them; but this is one which will meet their eye, and deeply impress their minds. If it be said that there is something in these adventitious distinctions that give us an influence over the native mind, and that we have no right to throw away this influence, I would in the first place suggest, that no account is made of this sort of influence in the Bible; and ask in the next place whether any thing is actual experience shows it to be of value. How long and in what plenitude have we enjoyed it-

1849

how ample the experiment made; yet what are the results. Those who have been attracted to us by means of the worldly advantages connected with our position, how insensible have they remained to the religious influence we have sought to exert. How common the remark that those who have served us longest, and denied the largest emoluments, are those who appear least affected by the Gospel. And if, from this number, in the course of many years, one, two or three converts be gathered, the mixture of worldly and religious influences to which they have been subjected, manifests itself in a vitiated and obscure piety.

Our true weapons are not carnal. If we have worldly ends to accomplish, then this worldly influence is valuable, but if we aim at gospel ends, it is at the best worthless. It may be favorable to false religion, but it is doubtless adverse to the true. We conquer by renouncing such advantages. When we are weak we are strong.

If it be said that the church at large, even the most pious and devoted portion of it, demands no such thing at our hands, and passes censure upon our present manner of life, I admit it, and begin in reply to present the following consideration. Missionaries are placed by Christ in the van of the church, and he does not expect that the main body of the church will be keener sighted to discover truth than they, but, on the contrary, that they, as true pioneers, will be first to see what is yet unseen, and afterwards instruct the church to see it. In the body of the church there exists no power to redeem the church from a low state of piety to a higher. How to effect this is the problem of problems. The tendency in the world is for each man to model his conscience upon that of his neighbour; and this tendency is of overwhelming power and universality.

I may ask, and gird thyself and serve me, assuredly Christ makes no unjust requisition of me when he says, "The disciple shall be as his master." Other arguments which will present themselves to your mind, I forbear to dwell upon. One, respecting the influence our manner of life will have in determining the tone of piety and consecration in the native church of India seems to me of incalculable weight.

My dear brethren and fellow servants, are the views I have stated erroneous? Are they without a proper warrant in Scripture? And am I chargeable with rashness or arrogance in thus making them known to you? I hope I may not incur this censure. I have gone warily and reluctantly about this business, chastised to it, as it seems to me, by the Spirit of God. May that Spirit guide us into the truth, and make us mighty in the Scriptures, those Scriptures which were given that the man of God might be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto every good work. Whatever opinion you may form of the views I have expressed, believe that my earnest desire in this and every prayer shall be for your most intimate union to Christ and your most faithfulness in Him.

G M

Bombay. January 8. 1849.

San Francisco July 29 /50.

Dear all.

Since I last wrote to you, on my first arrival here. I received two letters from you one dated Feby & one in April. — I must have not written very lately because I have had nothing very interesting to communicate. — Shortly after my arrival here I made up my mind to leave the Washington, any how. and altho' Capt Cole made me good offers to remain by the ship. I came to the conclusion that there was not money enough about here to make me put up with his petty meannesses for another year. So I one evening politely demanded my discharge, which he refused to give me. — So I took it after stopping on board the ship 15 days and went ashore bag & baggage without leave or license & immediately commenced proceedings against him for the amt of wages I would have received had I continued 2d mate all the while I was with him. For the balance I thought it best to let that go, as there were no papers drawn up between us. — In the Justice's Court I got a verdict in my favor, but as the opposite party was not satisfied they carried it to a higher court and there had the decision reversed. — You will see by the Enclosed slip of newspaper something of the trial & its bearings. — Since I have left the ship I have been about two weeks out of employment & the rest of the time hard at work & no gammon. — The living here is so expensive that it is rather difficult for a man to exist on nothing & still keep his end up. — For a night's lodging here in a common sort of a place you must pay a Dollar & a half & for a meal's victuals the same. — In fact everything is enormously high &

altho' wages are also high. I dont see but what a man can get along as well if not better on $30 pr mo at home, as on $150 here. — My first employment here after my two weeks idleness was one that you might try to guess at for a week and then not hit it. — What do you suppose it was now? Why, Dep[uty] Constable of course and nothing shorter. & the way I used to serve writs and summons's on people, was a caution to new beginners. This place did not hold me long for it did not pay well enough. And I then went as Mate of the Steam Ship Sahmanor for $150 — a month & found with liberty to quit whenever I see a chance of bettering myself, as the house maids say. — My idea now is to stay where I now am until my month is out and then go in to the lighting business with a friend of mine who is also the Mate of a ship & who has some funds. — This is a very money making business tho' a hard one and as our idea is to go on rather a new principle I am in hopes we shall succeed. — As for the mines, I shall not go near them yet a while — Accounts from them are not very encouraging. for altho' you hear once in a while of a man's making his pile there, you hear nothing of the hundreds who make nothing. However I shall go up and see the Elephant before I leave the country, but at present I have no idea of leaving San Francisco. — The business I am engaged in now, is very laborious. — from 5 in the morning until 9 at night. — I assure you a man earns all he makes. My health when I first arrived was bad. I having been troubled with an affection of the chest, but blister plasters and such things soon put that to flight and I think now that I have been thoroughly acclimated & feel as hearty as a brick. — and a lucky thing too. — for my health is all I have to depend on. — I meet a good many of my old acquaintances here daily, but we have not much in common. People that I have not seen in 10 years I frequently come across in the streets.- Bro Dyson, you remember him. used to live in Lafayette Place) is here with his wife and keeps a public House.- The other brother Bob- is up the country somewhere and has made a fortune.- Jim has acted in a very friendly manner towards me.- making me all kinds of offers of assistance. but as I came out here without any letters of introduction & nothing to trust to but my own resources. I prefer trusting to them altogether and having nobody to thank for any favors.- He has not been the only one. who has expressed himself willing to do any thing for me by a long chalk. Then is Capt^n Dearing (formerly of the Silas Richards) who upon meeting me in the streets appeared to be as glad to see me as if I had been his own brother and pressed me particularly to come on board of his ship the Ann Mary Ann & board with him until I found something to do. In fact he was particularly friendly altho' he did shove me into the Calabrese in Alexandria. He tells me that when he sailed from there he left money with the consul for me.- but which by the by, I never received. — As for sea faring friends I meet them at every turn- Among get others my old friend George Potter is out here and went up to the Southern Mines two or three weeks ago. but did not remain more than a week about- found the country infested by bands of murderers & Robbers. making it unsafe to travel unless in pretty large companies.- I think that George and myself with another kind of the same species will go into the business I spoke of before. and I do not think that if perseverance & energy and never say die-ativeness can make a thing succeed, that we shall fail.- I shall not write again until I can enclose something more substantial than good resolutions & good wishes. I do not be surprised if you should not hear of me in two months.- I wish I had come out here sooner. say as soon as I had come back from Africa. I should then have been able probably to have done something. Dick Dearing says that there are fools enough here to do hard work. without my turning my hand to it. but until something better turns up I shall never mind from it. – Make my remembrances to Bost good and tell him not to pay that security of mine until the return of the ship for it will be only then that they can prove that I did not go the whole voyage in the Ship. At any rate tell him to bother them about it as much as possible. for it is a regular humbug any how. – As soon as I get the dimes I will remit them. – It stands a fellow in Land to be temperate in this country. as every unfortunate drink costs him 25¢ & yet I suppose there is more liquor drank & fewer drunken men than in any place of its size in the world. –

1850

Mrs Hamit Bowen. –
Care of M Goodspeed Esqr
N° 11 Pine street
New York

1852

Well good bye to you until I write again. – Do not forget to remember me to Gurge every time you write. – Respects to every body who has politeness enough to enquire after me. God bless you all & believe me your affte son & brother.

Hamit Bowen

Rio de Janeiro June 2nd 1868.

My dear Sisters.

I've arrived here on the 25th ult after a rather disagreeable passage having stopped at St Thomas Barbadoes, Para, Pernambuco & Bahia. My health has been good (perfect) and it is to be hoped that it will continue so — I don't think that I will as yet get an agency in this Company as there will be for some time to come but one ship a month and it would not pay to have an agent & an assistant as I could make my expenses. And expects to return next month on the "City of Para". Of Rio I have nothing to say but that it is a fine city with fine shops for the latter of which the ship owners and officers have their reasons —

On Sunday evening I took tea with the Rev. minister of the English and Irish church. I was received with a great deal of politeness and had a very pleasant evening.

The Minister wanted to know if I had they could abound Chinese immigration - He is very anxious to introduce that kind

of labor into this country and will call
a meeting of planters in a few days to have a consultation on the subject. In fact I have strong hopes of being em= ployed by the Brazilian Govt to act
as their agent in this affair - Both Col Fiedel and I feel pretty sure that the thing will come out all right and in that case I shall not care a cent - for any steamship Company out if I can keep my health for a couple of years shall care money enough to last us all the balance of our lives - If anything should detain me here after the "Shea" sails I shall be able to send you money by that ship - We have a fine suit of apartments and the view - from the windows is something beautiful - Rio de J is a beautiful city enough but very expensive - Living here like with be enormous but as the Govt pays the bill my purse is not troubled much -

I have been troubled for the last week with a sick of boil on the gum & inside my mouth.
The Ships Surgeon says it comes from a defective
tooth and recommends a dentist - But I dont believe it - I shall doctor it myself for a few days longer anyhow but if it is very annoying - Yesterday the Emperor & Empress visited the Ship and we had a gay time - there was a great deal of good feeling manifested towards the Americans by the Govt and Brazilian generally - Col Fiedel is very much liked here and is on familiar terms with all the family from the Emperor down - Several of the Cabinet & the nobility generally have our passports & visitors and we are to go to Petropolis on Mon & dine the society of common people -
It is just a month since we sailed
from New York and there has been con= siderable of a change in my circumstances
tho' I am still without money -
Let us hope that better times are coming -

they came about Chinese immigration - He is very anxious to introduce that kind
of labor into this country and will call
a meeting of planters in a few days to have a consultation on the subject. I fancy I have strong hopes of being em= ployed by the Brazilian Govt to act
as their agent in this affair - Col Fidel is tickled and I feel pretty sure that the thing will come out all right and if it does I shall not care a cent - for any Steamship Company and if I can keep my health for a couple of years shall earn money enough
to last us all the balance of our lives -
If anything should detain me here after the "Ohio" sails I shall be able to send you money by that ship -
We have a fine suit of apartments on the sea - from the windows is something beautiful - Rio de J is a beautiful city but very dear but very expensive - Living is quite high but we can manage as I shall always pay the bill my purse
is not troubled much -

I have been troubled for the last week with a sort of boil on the jaw & inside my mouth.
The ship's surgeon says it comes from a defective
tooth and recommends a dentist - But I don't believe it - I shall doctor it myself for a few days longer anyhow but it is very annoying -
Yesterday the Emperor & Empress visited the ship and we had a gay time - There is a great deal of good feeling manifested toward the Americans by the Govt and Brazilian generally - Col Fidel is very much liked here and is on familiar terms with all the people
from the Emperor down -
Several of the Cabinet & the nobility generally have been frequent visitors and we are beginning to put on airs and dislike the society
of common people -
It is just a month since we sailed
from New York and there has been con= siderable of a change in my circumstances
tho' I am still without money -
Let us hope that better times are coming

As soon as I have anything [illegible]
I will write, even by way of England and if worth while will cable - Up to the present time however, tho' the prospects are bright there is nothing sure - As I do not know the number of your next quarter in 32nd St I shall direct this to the old number care of your Father - I hope that you are having a pleasant summer, and that weather you will with you - You should receive this about the 25th inst. as the ship is expected to go home in 30 days - She carries the largest Cargo of Coffee ever taken from here, about 40 000 bags - [illegible] - If Lizzie and Isaac [illegible] good health everything [illegible]
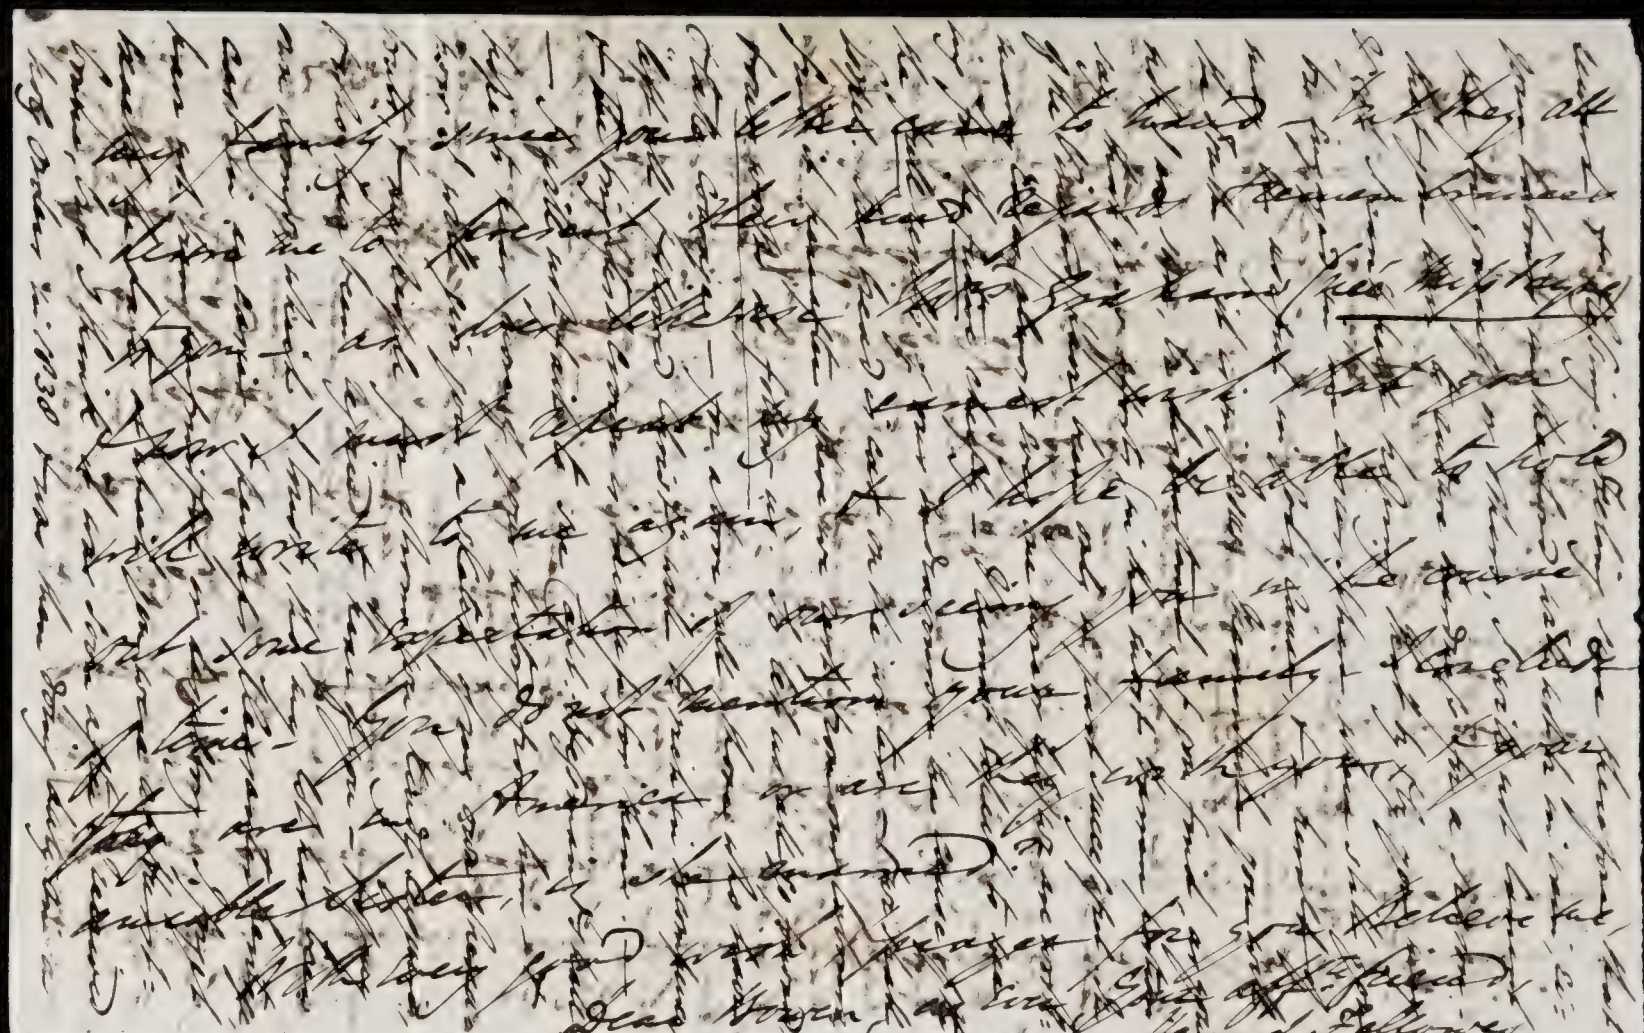
Yours Lovingly
Frank



very limited scale at a small hamlet near Hurstbourne. After being there two years, I was prayed to assist a friend in the Vicar of Longparish, & remained in that position, living still at Hurstbourne, & having the duties at L. about 3 miles distant with a population of 900, regularly for more than 10 years. When the Rectory of this Parish became vacant, I was instituted to it in 1852. I found myself now in a Parish of 600 which had been sadly neglected, without a School, & with very little attention to the poor, & the services of the Church. I had to rebuild the ruined Parsonage - I gathered above 100 children, forming a School-room out of an old stable. In the course of a year, I built a handsome convenient School, which is now very flourishing. I assist in it daily, & already find the good effects of systematic teaching in the orderly conduct & general improvement of the people. I am not married, & cannot afford at present to furnish my house - living in one room, with a spare bed for a friend. - Old Lord Portsmouth died in 1854 - Your family consequently left Hurstbourne, & are now residing in London - all being alive that you may recollect, except my next brother who entered the army & died of fever when on duty. - Cunningham has been in Jamaica almost ever since I saw you. His father died many years ago, & left his estates (he is unmarried)

Rev.d George Bowen
Bombay
India.
Paid —

Fordham N Y
Aug. 3, 1888?

Dear Dr Gillespie.

Your note arrived in advance of the package. I thank you very much for your thoughtfulness in procuring these for me. Some of our friends and relatives will have an opportunity of seeing this article, who would not otherwise do so. We are greatly pleased with the sketch itself, and with the cut also. I am indebted to somebody for this number of "The Church". Is it to you? (I always see that name under protest. It is a misnomer. We do not profess to be The Church

One interesting fact has not been mentioned so far in any of the accounts. George has always kept his music. As a young man at home he was fond of sitting down to the piano improvising as he played. A letter recently received from India, written by one of his friends and former pupils, says that he was accustomed to dine at her house one day in the week. If he came in before they were quite ready, he would sit down to the piano, and improvise in a mild way, and the sounds would be their greeting as they came up stairs.

A writer in an Indian paper — which I have not at hand to quote from; speaks of his social qualities. How interesting a family he would interest himself in each member, in the cares of the parents in their joys in the games and pranks of the children. I remember years ago hearing some one speak of the narratives he would compose for the entertainment of her children. As a young man before his conversion, he was exceedingly reserved at home, these social characteristics not being natural to him.

I am feeling much better than I did. Somewhat like myself, which I have not for the last six months. As I become stronger I feel that I would like some object for my days. When I was feeling so miserable I was content to do whatever the fancy of the moment dictated. Now I begin to feel that I want something that must be done.

Thanking you again for these sheets

Yours very truly

C. S. Bowen.

Saturday night
24th Dec

My dearest Mr Bowen

I am afraid of the delay occasioning you - I send letter just received, I shall not be able to close before the Sunday's post goes - I was about writing to you when yours came for which many thanks.

It was with no little surprise & sorrow I read that part of your letter in which you say that your instructions to the girls are about to cease - I cannot tell you how very sad I feel about it, though indeed I thought often in my own mind it was not right that we were receiving to each other that you could not long continue to

[illegible] at home [illegible] Mont Pleasant [illegible] Tuesday [illegible] you are endeavouring to take. Every thing will be so different there from what I only wish I could persuade you not to find [illegible] I cannot but be a cause of great sorrow to have laboured [illegible] some there who hopes to be the disciples of Jesus.
Really all things seem against us.
But I hope - pray that there may when living to the dark days of trial hanging over us at present I am certain you would never have thought of leaving home had they been what they were a few years ago, though you saw no fruit of your labour - it really astonishes one how Jesus can [illegible] any light he pleases before him

[illegible] you all [illegible] will go on [illegible] & pray that Jesus will be to dear Mrs [illegible] what she will need [illegible] & assure her that she is not forgotten at the throne of grace I am glad to hear that there is no interruption at present to our [illegible] & that the Holy Ghost will soon be poured out in this dark land.
I was sorry to hear about Miss Morgan
I dare say it will [illegible] Mr Lee is the most touching hearted man I ever came across.
He has been the cause of much distress [illegible] & trust there are not many like him in this world - that we shall have our tears like [illegible] heaven. Give [illegible] love to all 1860

PU
27 NOV

Dear Miss Bowen.

Your note this morning unnerved me — because I was in hopes of being able to visit you this Summer we spoke of, but as it is I can scarcely promise not to be unable to do so of the work, at that time, because — you may, dear, be leaving here — nothing happens.

Believe me — sincerely
Yours Truly

Dear Miss Bowen

Your note has reached me this morning & I am of having able to tell you the kind we spoke of, but as it is from abroad I may not see her until the end of the week; at that time I hope you may [illegible] to see her if nothing happens.

Believe me sincerely
Yours C. Stephens

Evening 1st Oct

Holstein Hostein India
Feb 23rd 86.

My dear friend Ida

I have been intending to write to you for a long time, and am very much ashamed, and very sorry that I have put it off so long. I have often thought about you, and your name often brought up in conversation. I remember you, your dear Mother, & Sister Harriett as friends, who sympathized with us in our trials, & I feel sure that you are interested to know how we are getting along. With the children & girls school & many duties and no help, I never seem to find half time enough for letter writing. I think Mr. Husband has mentioned your last very interesting & most welcome letter. We are always glad to hear something con-

[illegible] when your dear brother speaks of you in his letter. But it is sometimes like I have received a letter from him. And to get a letter from him — but I know he must have a great deal to do with all his Missionary, Bible Society, & Guardian work. May God give him strength as he needs it, many more years of usefulness in this World. I hope your dear Mother continues well [illegible] I fancy to feel the infirmities of years. I doubt if she can be as active now as when I saw her six years ago. May the Lord be the strength of her heart & her portion for ever — I hope your good Sister Harriet is still a successful teacher, & that you are both happy & useful in the stations to which the Lord calls you, & that you enjoy much [illegible] many reasons for which we are exercised in this heathen land. The Lord has been very kind to us since we came back to India. We seem quite established now. We have provided for us a [illegible] next month, eight years since we came here. Commercial matters & Financial Society — Very stale the Cotton in this district, & the cultivators are [illegible] the cotton, & many are [illegible] to grow the cotton. Our crop is [illegible] but we have a very interesting field before us, & we feel encouraged & hopeful, & often strengthened as we just now read a good deal in the Epistle to the Hebrews. [illegible] on the Persian Gulf from Bombay to Muscat — They had been kidnapped with many others & were being taken to an Arabian slave market. A British vessel overtook the slaver & brought him all to Bombay. Divine providence [illegible] them. Our Political agent [illegible] of them sent to us, & we [illegible] to see if we could do anything for him. It was difficult teaching him anything as he was [illegible] with fear. Poor Bindabun! But they are learning fast now, & all [illegible] became real Christians. The girls school is going on very well. We have some very bright children. They are delicious darlings. [illegible] warning [illegible] Read the Psalms with us when [illegible] sometimes [illegible]

Col. W. L. Tidball
1878 March

Mrs Fellows

Mrs. Harriet L. Brown
No 235 West 38th Street.
New York —

Ship Washington Saturday

Dear Ma.

We will this afternoon leave into the Stream. but tomorrow I will probably get a chance to come ashore & say Good bye to you. — If however we should go to sea & I should not see you again before I go. do not believe but what you will see me again. Well & in good Order. Give my love to all & tell Kate I must leave her short until I get to California. Write to me at San Francisco in 3 or 4 months per Steamer. & that on my arrival I may get a letter.

In haste Yours

Frank

Free Frank

Mrs Harriet Bowen,
at Mrs Reid's Fourth Street between Wooster & Green.
New York

INTERLAKEN INN

LAKEVILLE, CONNECTICUT

JOHN C. PERCY
ELIZABETH S. PERCY } PROPRIETORS

TEL. LAKEVILLE 30

Letters '47-'58 not in Harriet's book.

J. ~~Harriet~~ ~~Feb 27. '48~~

Kate June 13 '49

Harriet Oct 15 '50

Harriet May 10, 50

" Apr 27. 54

" Jan 30 '54

My dear Sir

I am glad to write to you these few lines and I hope that you are well. Our teacher is kind to us and tells us about our Saviour, I like you to talk with me about the Saviour and about the American schoolll boys, I am very sorry to tell you that I have got a narroo × I will tell × that is, a guinea worm - you what I learn in school English and Mahratta verses and spelling and geography and arithmetic, nothing mo to add my love to you

Yours truly
George Williams

HENRY W. RANKIN, EAST NORTHFIELD,
MASS.

Geo Bowen

Facts.